Tucker's Trial May Be Delayed For Year; Bankruptcy Denied

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—A crowded court docket may delay for a year the trial of Preston T. Tucker and seven of his business associates on federal charges in connection with the promotion of a rear-engine automobile.

A federal grand jury in a 31 count indictment returned yesterday charged each with 25 counts of mail fraud violations, five counts of violating regulations of the Securities and Exchange commission, and one of conspiracy.

Meanwhile, Tucker in a statement issued here, said he will ask the Senate to investigate, adding, "I don't intend to take it lying down."

Sixty Autos Built

At his boyhood home in Ypsilanti, Mich., he said his automobile firm was "not bankrupt by any stretch of the imagination." He said the action against him and his associates was started by "those who would suffer most from the competition."

In his statement, Tucker said the Tucker Corp. has assests of $14,000,000 and debts of $1,600,000. He added the firm had been a victim of "wrecking tactics of the SEC."

The grand jury said the Tucker Corp., organized in 1946, had a financial high of $28,000,000 which dropped to a cash balance of $130,000 on Dec. 31, 1948. The jury said the defendants spent $28,000,000 in promotion and building of the car made "false and fraudulent statements" about the proposed new auto, and produced 25-hand-made cars, "none of which had the engineering features which Tucker contended would go into his automobile."

Tucker said 60 of the novel cars already have been produced on an assembly line and 100 more are almost complete.

The indictment said approximately $10,000,000 was paid in engineering and administrative expenses, more than $4,000,000 to officers, directors and promoters, including about $2,500,000 to Floyd D. Cerf Company, Inc.

Fire At Coldwater Claims Third Life

Coldwater, Mich., June 11. (AP)—A fire which Friday destroyed a three-room converted garage dwelling has claimed its third victim.

Mrs. Louise Courtright, 30, died last night in the community health center here of burns received in the blaze which killed two of her children.

A daughter, Carol Ann, 2, died almost instantly when a kerosene stove exploded. A son, William, Jr., 9, succumbed several hours later.

Another son, Russell, 7, escaped uninjured.

Arab States Press Britain For Guns

Shipment Of Small Arms May Be Resumed

Lake Success, June 11 (AP)—Britain is considering resumption of small arms shipments to Arab states, informed sources here and in London said yesterday.

United Nations officials said British Representative Sir Alexander Cadogan called on U. N. Palestine Mediator Ralph J. Bunche to ask his opinion. Cadogan is understood to have told Bunche his government feels the recent armistices Israel signed with Trans-Jordan and Iraq opened the way for the lifting of the U. N. arms embargo.

These informants said Bunche answered that, in his opinion, the arms embargo was still in effect.

Cadogan is said to have pointed out that Britain has contracts to supply arms to some of the Arab countries and that the countries involved are pressing for delivery.

A British spokesman said "a decision has been reached or will be reached shortly to send a limited quantity of small arms" to Iran and Trans-Jordan "for internal use only." This, he said, would follow the precedent set by France recently in sending small arms to Syria.

In London, sources close to the Israeli delegation said resumption of any sort of arms shipments to the Arabs might gravely interfere with the already deadlocked Arab-Jewish peace talks in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Man Linked With Coplon Spy Case Suicide In River

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Police said today that one of the men mentioned in the Judith Coplon trial yesterday had committed suicide here last week.

He was Morton E. Kent, 48, Chevy Chase, Md., whose throat-slashed body was found floating in the Potomac River last Saturday. District Coroner MacDonald pronounced the case a suicide.

Kent was a Russian-born former state department aide. Top-secret FBI documents read at the Coplon espionage trial yesterday said he had been in contact with Soviet secret police.

Kent was a Harvard graduate and spoke nine languages. He joined a private firm here five years ago after working for both the state and labor departments and for the board of economic warfare.

State Funds Mailed To School Districts

Lansing, June 11 (AP)—Two state payments totalling $1,251,051 are being sent to school districts, Dr. Lee M. Thurston, superintendent of public instruction, reported today.

Checks for $957,051 representing the surplus of 1948-49 school aid funds have been sent to county treasurers for distribution to school districts.

In addition, the 105 school districts which conducted adult education programs will receive next week direct payments totalling $300,000. The payments represent reimbursement by the state for some of the cost of the programs.

Vandenberg Opposes Marshall Plan Cuts

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) declared today that any "arbitrary" cuts in Marshall plan funds might make the European recovery program "useless."

The Michigan Senator, top Republican on the Foreign Relations committee, said in a statement that the retirement of ECA administrator Paul G. Hoffman is "unthinkable."

Hoffman has indicated to the Senate Appropriations committee that he would resign if his funds are cut to a point where he feels it would scuttle the recovery program.

Colorado Student Slain Defending Blind Date Coed

Boulder, Colo., June 11. (AP)—Shocked by the second student slaying in seven months, University of Colorado authorities today checked classmates of Roy D. Spore, Jr., for clues to the identity of his vicious killer.

The 19-year-old Denver sophomore was killed Thursday night defending his "blind" date from the attack of an unknown assailant. His date, Doris Ann Weaver, 19, of Twin Falls, Idaho, ran to safety on the campus nearby.

The killer battered the youth mercilessly and threw his body into Boulder creek. The body was found 75 yards downstream yesterday.

Dean of Men Harry Carlson said the school would assemble for baffled authorities a list of Spore's classmates and Miss Weaver's boy friends.

Dr. Angelo Lapi, Denver medical examiner, said after an autopsy that there were similarities between the deaths of Spore and Theresa Foster, university coed killed Nov. 9.

Joe Walker was convicted May 9 of Miss Foster's death despite his story that a "burly blond" youth killed her. His attorneys have filed for a new trial. He has not been sentenced.

Using a blunt instrument, Dr. Lapi said, the killer apparently continued to batter the unconscious youth after his first blows knocked him to the creek bank. Cuts to the victim's hands and arms indicated he threw them up to ward off the blows.

Spore was handicapped by a cast on his leg. He injured it in a university celebration May 1. He was to have returned home Thursday, fraternity brothers said, but remained because the cast was to be removed yesterday. They said he called the girl's dormitory Thursday night and made a "blind" date with Miss Weaver.

Miss Weaver was to have left for home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weaver, Thursday, but did not have her bags packed and the departure was postponed until the next day.

The killer crept up behind the pair as they sat beside the creek. He hit Miss Weaver first and turned on Spore when the youth yelled "Run, Doris, run."

Scare Letters End For Young Teachers

Seattle Source Remains Mystery Despite FBI

Washington June 11 (AP)—The mysterious writer of "Scare Letters" to the nation's would-be schoolmarms apparently has given up the campaign.

The flow of letters which reached a peak this spring has now stopped, says Belmont Farley, press relations director for the National Education Association.

The letters apparently have been without the effect the writer desired. Young women are still going into the teaching profession by the thousands.

The association asked the FBI to investigate after it learned that the letters, all postmarked at Seattle, had been sent to thousands of women in schools of education throughout the country.

Mimeographed on cheap paper and signed "one who has observed," the letters said in part:

"Teaching is the worst matrimonial blind alley that ever a girl can get into. Many teachers never marry.

In the years to come, you may be spending your holidays alone, or your relatives may patronize you and allow you to look in upon them . . . .

"The people who operate these training institutions (old maid factories) are greedy for your sacrifice so they can continue in their positions."

Fort Custer Gets Ready For Troops; Job Costs $500,000

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—Fifth Army headquarters announced today that Fort Custer, Mich., near Battle Creek, will be reactivated for troop training.

Custer's personnel will be boosted by approximately 3,500 men. The announcement said that present planning "contemplates particular concentration on anti-aircraft training."

Repair and remodeling projects costing $500,000 are underway at the post. Full operation is scheduled for late summer or early fall.

Pelkie Man Killed In Auto Collision

L'Anse, Mich., June 11 (AP) — A World War Two veteran, Reino W. Tauriainen, 24, of Pelkie, was killed last night after the pickup truck he was driving struck another automobile.

The impact threw Tauriainen to the pavement where a third car struck him and dragged his body 75 feet before the driver was able to stop. The accident occurred between Baraga and L'Anse.

Senators Want Big Cut In European Aid

Flat $780,000,000 Slash To Be Recommended

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, June 11. (AP)—Senators called today for cuts of up to $780,000,000 in the European recovery program.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters the economic cooperation administration can stand a 10 per cent cut in the $3,568,470,000 fund voted by the house. He said he will back such a cut.

But Senator McCarren (D-Nev.), a member of the senate appropriations committee, said he will urge a flat $780,000,000 slash.

Senator George (D-Ga.) told a reporter there is no "disposition in the senate to cripple ECA." But he said he favors making the agency spread the $3,568,470,000 over 12 months instead of the 10½ months allowed by the house.

George said he is confident Hoffman can spread the money over 12 months because of declining prices. If this money is not "entirely adequate," he added, then Hoffman could come back to congress for what he needed to finish the job.

Hoffman has said he will not return and ask for more money. He said he will try to do the job with whatever money he gets even if the program "goes to pot."

But he added he will step out as administrator if he believes he cannot do the job with the money furnished by congress.

Return of Trieste Awaited By Italy

Trieste, June 11 (AP)—Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi told a political campaign rally last night "the Italian government awaits the return of Trieste."

His address climaxed a campaign for the free city's first municipal elections in 7 years, scheduled for tomorrow. The United States and Britain have urged the return to Italy of this east-west trouble spot.

Yugoslavia wants Trieste and Russia has opposed its return to Italian rule, despite Yugoslav Premier Tito's differences with the Soviet-inspired cominform.

The election contest is between pro-Italian anti-Communists and pro-Yugoslav elements of the city's largely Italian popoulation.

WEATHER WARMS UP

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—Hot and humid weather was forecast for the central and southern states today. The northeastern states will get the same brand of weather tomorrow after comparatively mild temperatures today.

Strike of Electric Railway Workers Settled In Tokyo

Tokyo, June 11 (AP)—An electric railway workers strike, which tied knots in the transportation of 1,000,000 commuters, ended today on orders of occupation officials.

The government railway workers union bowed to the back-to-work edict of Robert T. Amis, General MacArthur's labor division chief. He styled the strike "contrary to law and inimical to the occupation."

The walkout began Thursday in a row over the firing of 19 union officials from their railway jobs. Occupation authorities insisted that Communists were back of the dispute.

The two day strike affected suburban electric lines between Tokyo and nearby Yokohama.

Congress To Check Atom Staff Loyalty Behind Closed Door

By JACK BELL

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Congress will get a look at the loyalty records of key Atomic Energy Commission employes, but behind the closed doors of the Senate-House atomic committee.

That decision, made by a 9 to 8 vote of the committee yesterday, apparently pulled out of public hearings a major portion of the "incredible mismanagement" case of Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) against AEC chairman David E. Lilienthal.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), who made the move for closed sessions on the loyalty question, promised a report of the committee's conclusions when the inquiry ends.

Hickenlooper, who didn't vote on the issue that kept the committee split for a week, called the decision "a remarkable action."

He said that he doesn't know what course he will pursue "now that they have blocked me on the security phase."

Later, in a radio interview on Mutual's "Meet the Press" program, Hickenlooper said the committee's decision had forced him to "reorient my approach" because "a very vital part of my presentation has been taken out from under me."

He said he had expected the security files would be gone into privately, anyway, but he wanted to make a public presentation on procedure "leading up to clearance and nonclearance of individuals."

Hickenlooper said he thought this was the "public's business."

McMahon said that the committee's public hearings will be resumed Monday if Hickenlooper is ready to proceed with other phases of his case.

Russian Surprise Foreseen Sunday

Judge Holds Court In Cabin Near Soo; Convict To Appeal

Lansing, June 11. (AP)—May a circuit judge hold court in his summer cabin?

The state supreme court has consented to pass on that.

The court agreed to hear an appeal from James McGowan, former Sault Ste. Marie factory employe, who is serving a 25 to 40 year sentence in the Marquette branch prison for the statutory rape of his daughter. He was sentenced by Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels of Sault Ste. Marie.

McGowan, who learned to read and write in prison, prepared and submitted his own appeal without the help of an attorney. But he got unexpected assistance from Solicitor General Edmund E. Shepherd.

Shepherd informed the supreme court in an official report "the serious question in this case is whether the circuit judge, when the guilty plea was accepted and sentence pronounced, was exercising competent jurisdiction.

"The defendant was not arraigned in open court in Sault Ste. Marie, but was taken to the summer home of the circuit judge and in the building designated in the order was arraigned and sentenced. We respectfully suggested because of the importance of this question and the serious doubt raised thereby that this court give serious consideration to the granting of leave to appeal and we hereby interpose no objection to the application."

Shepherd's report said that on May 2, 1939, Judge Runnels entered in his court journal an order declaring it was "advisable, desirable and necessary to provide for and have an ancillary building and circuit court during certain times" and designating a building "known as the block house located on Lots 11, 12, 13 and 14" in Bay Mills as a "proper and legal and regular place to hold court at such times as it may seem desirable and advisable."

Bay Mills is a small settlement on the St. Mary's river north of Sault Ste. Marie.

In his appeal, McGowan contended he was never given an examination, was tricked into pleading guilty and was not told that he has the right to legal counsel.

Judge Runnels answer said that McGowen was arraigned in municipal court Oct. 18, 1940, and waived examination. He reported that he questioned the defendant to make certain his plea was voluntary and told him he had the right to counsel.

Husband Hunt Fnds For Luscious Lucy

Los Angeles Girl Passes Up Jaycee Bachelors

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 11 (AP)—Luscious Lucy threw away the script and got the man she had been eyeing all along.

Lucy—Lucille Archibeque of Los Angeles—was supposed to pick a husband from the bachelors at the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce convention. Then, the "People Are Funny" radio program was to finance the honeymoon.

Instead, the 23-year-old brunet accepted the telegraphed proposal of Jay Kinzer, from Wenatchee, Wash. Lucy left a note in her hotel room saying they were going to Nevada to be married.

It was learned later that Lucy and Kinzer announced their engagement in Albuquerque, N. M., last Feb. 2. She graduated from high school there in 1942.

Said Art Linkletter of the radio show: "We was robbed. No honeymoon for her."

Yangtze Blockade Is Problem For Reds In Shanghai

Shanghai, June 11 (AP)—The Chinese Communists still tried today to find the answer to breaking the three-day Nationalist blockade of the Yangtze river.

The Red military control commissioin continued to ponder the double trouble:

(1) A Nationalist gunboat known to be in the vicinity of the river mouth. It was the presence of this craft that was construed here as constituting a blockade.

(2) A possibility that a Nationalist LSM (landing ship medium) had planted mines in the estuary. All that was known for certain was that this craft had zig-zagged over the ship channels as though laying mines.

The fear of mines has frozen Shanghai's sorely needed shipping. Two foreign ships were bottled up in port—the British Shenking and the American China Victory. All others were steering clear of Shanghai.

ENCAMPMENT AT JACKSON

Jackson (AP)—More than a thousand delegates are expected to attend the 46th annual department encampment of the Michigan United Spanish War Veterans here. The session opens Sunday evening with memorial services.

Coal Diggers Start Week-Long Holiday

Layoff Affects 30,000 Railroad Workers

Pittsburgh, June 11 (AP)—A one-week mining holiday beginning Monday sent some of the nation's 450,000 coal miners into the pits today at time-and-a-half pay as producers ordered a sixth day of production.

Major anthracite producers in Eastern Pennsylvania ordered the work day as retail coal dealers reported a sharp rise in orders.

But for most miners, who don't work Saturday or Sunday, idleness began today.

President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers ordered a cessation of mining for one week starting Monday to stabilize the industry.

If the holiday lasts but one week, the miners will have five more working days before their 10-day paid vacation begins under the current contract. They are paid $100 each for that vacation.

The Lewis order affected others besides miners:

Some 30,000 Eastern railroad workers are scheduled to be laid off. However, the Pennsylvania railroad, which leads with 15,000 planned layoffs, and the Reading road said a drop in business had a hand in furloughing personnel.

Hooded Men Beat Birmingham Women, Burn Fiery Cross

Birmingham, Ala., June 11. (AP)—Hooded and robed men last night beat a Birmingham white woman and threatened to burn her at the stake. Another group of 16 carloads of hooded men took charge of a cafe in a nearby town and threatened the proprietor.

The cafe operator, a white man, was warned to "keep those niggers down."

About 20 men, some of them armed, smashed their way into the home of a 42-year-old white woman. She said they struck her and threatened to lash her and burn her. They left a fiery cross burning in the yard of her home.

Mrs. Hugh McDanal, who lives on the Jasper highway about five miles from the Birmingham city limits said the robed men invaded her home about 10 p. m. The woman, who recently underwent an operation for a brain hemmorrhage, said she was struck twice on the head. Her husband was away from home at the time.

Bataan Death March Criminals Hanged

Tokyo, June 11 (AP)—Fifteen Japanese war criminals, including two convicted in the Bataan death march, have been hanged at Sugamo prison recently, General MacArthur's headquarters said today.

The two hanged for responsibility in the death march were Maj. Gen. Yoshitake Kawane and Col. Kurataro Hirano. They were transportation officers whose trucks ran down and killed some of the 10,000 Americans and Filipinos who died on the march from fallen Bataan in 1942.

The other 13 had been tried at various times by Army commissions or military courts in Japan and the Philippines.

COMSTOCK "CRITICAL"

Alpena, Mich., June 11 (AP) — Former Gov. William A. Comstock's condition was given its now familiar "critical" description again today. Alpena General hospital, where the 71-year-old Comstock had been confined since suffering a stroke May 24, said there was little change.

Vishinsky Expected To Have Something New Up His Sleeve

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

Paris, June 11 (AP)—Western officials look for a new dramatic move by Russia when the Council of Foreign Ministers reconvenes tomorrow.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky had asked before adjournment yesterday that no meeting be held today. His Western colleagues agreed to the Russian diplomat's cryptic request.

A Russian press officer was asked why Vishinsky wanted an adjournment until Sunday afternoon.

"He wanted the day off, that is all," was the answer.

Western officials speculated that Vishinsky, after consulting with the Kremlin, might make a move that could change the course of the Paris conference.

Blunt Facts Noted

They noted these aspects of Vishinsky's call for a one-day recess:

It came soon after Secretary of State Dean Acheson warned that the days of the conference were numbered unless Russia gives ground.

"We are here to deal with realities, the blunt facts of a situation and not to engage in some form of diplomatic minuet," said Acheson.

Secondly, Vishinsky's request was made immediately after the conference had reached a near deadlock on three German issues before the council. These were four-power control in a politically and economically reunited Germany; Berlin and the currency question, and preparation of a German peace treaty.

Vishinsky explained his request yesterday merely by saying he was going to be "busy." Western officials suggested he could "busy" himself by seeing some Russian emissary in Paris, or awaiting word from some top level policy conference taking place in the Kremlin on the basis of reports he may have sent to Moscow last night.

The United States has insisted that the foreign ministers meetings adjourn at the end of next week.

Three Points Popular

A senior east European diplomat, however, told a reporter: "I don't think the conference will end next week." He said he had lunched with Vishinsky three days ago.

There is not much hope among Western officials that Vishinsky's adjournment request will lead to some positive action.

However hard Western ministers hit back at him, Vishinsky is regarded as having had a psychological advantage in unleashing his three-point demand for work to begin on a German peace treaty within three months; evacuation of all troops from Germany one year after a peace pact is signed, and immediate formulation of procedure by which a peace treaty should be written.

These proposals are popular—not only in east Germany but in the Western zones.

NEW C. R. O. P. DRIVE

Lansing, June 11. (AP)—This year's goal of the Michigan division of the Christian Rural Overseas Program will be 110 carloads of food for the needy of foreign countries, President John A. Hannah of Michigan State college has announced. Dr. Hannah is also Michigan chairman of CROP.

Governor Tries Walleye Fishing Here; No Luck

Governor G. Mennen Williams rerouted a busy schedule Friday to try the walleye fishing in Delta county waters and although the governor failed to land a fish in the three-quarters of an hour that he was on the bay, he said he had a wonderful time. His pilot, Stan McWhinney, who was fishing from another boat, landed two walleyes, one of which he ruefully admitted that he had snagged.

Accompanying the governor to Escanaba by plane from Marquette were Executive Secretary L. L. Farrell, State Representative Einar Erlandsen of Escanaba, Sgt. Sam McIntyre, the governor's aide, and the pilot, Stan McWhinney.

They were met at the Escanaba airport at 4:50 p. m. by Gerald Cleary, Delta county Democratic chairman, and a state police escort. The party went to Herbert Norton's cottage, The Breakers, at Ford River, for a hurry-up fishing trip and a fish dinner before departing at 7:30 p. m. for Mackinac Island.

The walleye fishing trip was an unscheduled part of the governor's itinerary in the Upper Peninsula. Friday he attended a forestry dedication program at Carlson's Camp, near Munising. He commented then that he would like to get in a walleye fishing trip at Escanaba before the summer is over. Advised that the walleye season is now reaching its peak, the governor changed his plans and decided to come to Escanaba "for an hour or two".

Gerald Cleary accompanied the governor on the fishing trip. He also failed to get a strike. The governor was advised that if he would try it again a little later in the evening, he could expect more luck. Williams said that he could not remain longer because of an engagement at Mackinaw Island. He indicated, however, that he would try to come back later this summer, perhaps during the American Legion convention here in July.

Governor Williams also will return to Escanaba in August for Governor's Day at the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

Motorists Warned To Watch for Game On U. P. Highways

It is at this season of the year that many deer and other game are killed on the highways by automobiles, and motorists today were warned by the conservation department to be careful not only to save game but to avoid danger to themselves.

Bernard A. Stephansky, regional supervisor for the department, advised motorists to slow up in areas where deer are known to frequent the highways. In many places warning signs have been erected. Most conservation officers in the Upper Peninsula report burying from one to three deer each week killed by cars.

The state pays no damage claims to owners of automobiles that are wrecked as the result of colliding with deer or other wildlife.

Conservation Officer Ray Walker of St. Ignace reported to regional headquarters that in one night recently on a 53-mile stretch of US-2 between St. Ignace and Rudyard he counted the following toll of wildlife: One deer, 27 rabbits, two partridge, three woodchucks, two porcupines, two red squirrels and one muskrat.

Grandson Drowns In Fenton Lake

Engadine—Word has been received here by Frank H. Quinn of the death of his grandson, Garland Carroll in the waters of Fenton Lake near Flint, Mich.

The young man was drowned in 90 feet of water after saving the life of a companion, Sheila Hanes, 16. Two other persons, Beverly McDuff and Robert Withey, were rescued.

Garland is the son of Mrs. Celia Carroll, a widow. The body was recovered and funeral services were held Friday, June 3, in Flint.

Three members of the All-America Conference champion Cleveland Browns—Lou Groza, Dante Lavelli and Dean Sensenbaugher—are finishing their college education at Ohio State.

Munising Marine Is Fatally Hurt

Munising—Mrs. Marie Harju Belmore, 107 East Onota street, Munising, has received word that her son, Sgt. Theodore Roy Belmore, of the Marine Corps Air Wing, died Tuesday, June 7, in an auto accident in Norwalk, Calif.

He enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps Aug. 6, 1945. After receiving basic training at Parris Island, N. C., he was sent to North China, where he was stationed 30 months. Since his return to the United States, he has been stationed at Marine air station El Toro in Santa Ana, Calif.

In compliance with Sgt. Belmore's wishes, he will be interred in Arlington national cemetery in Washington, D. C. His body is being taken to the national capital by a Marine escort and military rites probably will be held Saturday.

Pfc. Mervin Belmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Belmore, who is stationed at the Marine Corps base in LaJeune, N. C., will attend the services.

Besides his mother, Sgt. Belmore leaves his father, Ralph Belmore, Marquette; two brothers, Jack and Ralph, Jr., of Munising and his grandparents, Ralph Belmore, Sr., of Marquette, and Mr. and Mrs. John Harju, of Newberry.

Request Fishermen Report Catches Of Fin-Clipped Perch

The Michigan conservation department is requesting commercial and sports fishermen to watch for and report any fin-clipped or tagged perch they may catch from Green bay waters. Reports should be made to the district conservation headquarters in Escanaba.

The study is being made by the Wisconsin conservation department to determine comparative returns between tagged and fin-clipped fish; to determine whether perch travel extensively; and to obtain information on the abundance of perch in bay waters.

Nearly 10,000 yellow perch were tagged and fin-clipped in southern Green bay, and additional data was collected on perch at Suamico, lake herring at Pensaukee, and whitefish and walleyes at Cedar River. The work will continue next year.

Health Meeting Is Scheduled June 16

The Delta-Menominee district board of health will meet at 1 p. m. (CST) Thursday, June 16, in the Stephenson school, it was announced today by Dr. William C. Harrison, district health director. Attending from Delta county will be Supervisors Walter Manntie of Rock, Wynand Nieuwenkamp of Gladstone, and Nevin Reynolds of Escanaba. The Menominee county members are Supervisors Arvid Revall, Albert Kipfer and James Kehoe.

Five Candidates Seek School Offices Monday

Registered school electors of the city of Escanaba—all 1,305 of them—are expected to vote in the annual school election to be held Monday, June 13.

In the first contest in many years, the voters will elect two of five candidates for the position of Escanaba board of education trustee. The two candidates receiving the largest vote will be elected for four-year terms beginning July 1, 1939, and ending June 30, 1953.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m., and the polling places for the school election are as follows:

First school precinct—City Hall. This precinct comprises the first, second, third and eighth city precincts.

Second school precinct—Jefferson school. This precinct comprises the fourth, fifth and sixth city precincts.

Third school precinct—Fire station on Sheridan road. This comprises the seventh city precinct.

The terms of A. D. LaBranche and William Warmington will expire June 30. LaBranche, completing his first four-year term, is a candidate for reelection. Warmington, who has served on the board for 12 years, is not a candidate and will retire.

Interest in the school election this year has been aroused because of the contest and brought out the largest registration of school electors in many years. Last year only 169 school voters were registered, compared with a total of 1,305 at the present time.

The five candidates, with brief biographical sketches, are as follows:

Charles L. Follo of 209 South 11th street, who is supervisor of the Upper Peninsula area of the University of Michigan Extension Service. He is 44 years old, was born in Escanaba and is a graduate of Escanaba high school. He attended Northern Michigan College of Education, Western Michigan College of Education and University of Chicago, receiving his M. A. degree in 1943. He is a former school teacher, and is a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal church.

A. D. LaBranche of 410 South Eighth street, who has served on the board of education for the past four years, has been a resident of Escanaba for the past 41 years. He attended St. Ann's and St. Joseph's parochial schools and Hoffman's Milwaukee Business College. For the past 22 years he has been associated with the Allo funeral home. He is married and has three children.

Mrs. Dorothy Lindquist of 531 South 14th street is the first woman candidate in many years for the board of education. She is 34 years old, the mother of three children, and the wife of Dr. Norman Lindquist, Escanaba physician. She attended the University of Wisconsin and is a registered nurse. The Lindquists lived in Manistique for nine years before coming to Escanaba more than one and one-half years age. She is a member of the Presbyterian church, the Barr school PTA, Escanaba Women's Club, and is leader of a Camp Fire group.

Paul Vardigan jr., of 1318 Sheridan road is 33 years old, is married, and the father of a son. He was born in Wells and is a lifelong resident of Delta county. He has lived in Escanaba for 10 years. A graduate of St. Joseph's high school, Delta County Normal, Cloverland Commercial College, and attended Northern Michigan College of Education, he has taught in Delta county schools for 14 years. He has been active in Michigan Education Association district affairs and is cubmaster of Webster school Cub Scouts.

Dale Vinette of 1713 Tenth avenue south is an Escanaba business man who graduated from Escanaba high school in 1933. He is married and the father of three daughters. A veteran of World War II, he served in the U. S. Navy for four years as chief warrant officer prior to his discharge in 1946. He is active in civic affairs and is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the Escanaba Lions Club. He is a member of St. Patrick's church and is a member of the school building committee of that church.

Guard Against Forest Fires This Weekend

Campers, fishermen, picnickers and all others who intend to spend some time in the woods or along a stream this weekend are warned by the U. S. Forest service office in Escanaba to be particularly careful about fire.

The by-word is to extinguish that match and snap it in two before tossing it away, extinguish cigars and cigarets thoroughly before tossing them aside, stomp out pipe tobacco and watch that campfire like your life depended on it.

"The forest fire danger is high right now, very high in both the Hiawatha and Marquette National forests," George Young, assistant supervisor of the Upper Michigan National forest, said yesterday.

"There has been no appreciable rainfall in the Hiawatha and parts of the Marquette since May 18 or for 22 days.

"The combination of unusually low humidity and above normal winds has dried out the woods cnsiderably, and everyone certainly must on guard against fire this weekend and at all times."

Young reported that two "fishermen fires" occurred in the vicinity of AuTrain and three fires occurred in the Rapid River district this week. From 25 to 40 acres were burned over.

Employers Urged To Give Military Leaves To Guards

Lansing, June 11 (AP)—Reporting that 88 per cent of the employers of Michigan National Guardsmen have adopted Fmilitary leave plans, Brig. Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant geeral, urged all employers to follow suit.

Seeking to promote full attendance of Michigan's 9,599 guardsmen at field training at Camp Grayling Aug. 6-20, General Moran sent letters to 1,500 Michigan employers.

He urged them to adopt a military leave policy which would permit guardsmen to attend the encampment without loss of vacation time or pay.

Local Chambers of Commerce, the Michigan Manufacturers association and labor organizations have joined in the campaign, the general reported.

Based on reports by 381 employers of guardsmen, the adjutant general's office found that 338 firms were granting at least regular vacations in addition to military leave.

It was found that 30 per cent of the firms were granting vacations plus paying the difference between regular and guard pay 15 per cent were granting regular vacations plus full pay for field training, and 11 per cent had not adopted a military leave policy.

AGED PRINTER IS CHARACTER

Coldwell, O., Man Has No Critics

By ROBERT C. RUARK

Caldwell, O.—I just met Mr. Cyrus McGlashan, aged 80, who is the best, by test, man in Ohio. You might even say that Mr. McGlashan is perfect, except for the fact that he used to smoke an awful stinky pipe and sometimes spit tobacco juice irresponsibly.

Mr. McGlashan is a retired printer, member of a trade which in times past has been noted for profanity, irregular living, and a weakness for hand-set whisky. Mr. McGlashan started out as a printer's devil in 1884, and retired in '46. He never succumbed to any of the trade's temptation.

The reason I know that Cy is the best man in Ohio is that a heavy wager rested on his nobility of character. A wealthy clothing merchant in a nearby town once bet a whacking sum that nobody in Caldwell would put in a knock against Cy.

Never Criticized

Two thousand citizens, the town's entire population, were polled. Nobody had a criticism for Cy. This strikes me as remarkable, since cutting up your friends is standing operating procedure in most circles and most places. It seems fantastic that a man can live around the same community for the best part of a century without acquiring at least one enemy.

Mr. McGlashan, a lean old man with tranquil eyes, a hawkish profile and no teeth, is deaf and lame but he is happy. He says he has founded this tranquility on leaving people alone.

Yet he is a sworn enemy of demon rum. In his job he always refused to set whisky or beer advertisements. One time he was fired for such a refusal.

"But," says Mr. McGlashan, "when I used to walk up the street the drunks would throw their arms around my neck and hug me. Not even the drunks were ever mad at me."

Never Missed Church

Mr. McGlashan is limping around on a cane now, and is feeling pretty spry, although it takes him an hour to walk one block to church. It takes him another hour to walk back. As a matter of fact, that's how he broke his leg in the first place. Broke it walking back from church. Stumbled on the curb.

For two years Cy was on crutches, while his old bones reluctantly knit. While he was on crutches, he never missed a church service. He has taught Sunday school for 50 years.

Cy is a great gardener. He was planting potatoes when I went to see him. During all the time he was real lame, he planted his crops from a wheel chair. Says the potatoes grow just as good when he was crippled as they did when he was hale.

Model Husband

Mrs. McGlashan says she has lived with Cy for 55 years and has found him to be a model husband. She says he never got out of line once that she can remember, and that he never overworked his saintliness around the house.

This, I believe, is the supreme tribute to the beloved Mr. McGlashan. When the woman with whom you have dwelt for 55 years cannot lay tongue to a single fault in her mate, he is ready for the immediate occupancy of the golden throne. So I asked her again if there wasn't some tiny, minute little flaw in her spouse's makeup.

Mrs. McGlashan mused. She clucked and drummed her fingers on her knee. Finally she spoke.

"Before he lost his teeth," she said, "Cy used to chew tobacco, and spray the juice around something awful."

This corresponded with the report of his nearest neighbor.

Cy's a fine and godly man," the neighbor said, "but the tobacco he used to smoke in his pipel smelled like hell. Yessir, Cy used to smoke an awful stinky pipe."

Road Improvement Scheduled at Soo

The state highway department will receive bids in Escanaba June 21 for the improvement of 1.553 miles of a county road along the south city limits of Sault Ste. Marie, it was announced today.

The work will consist of grading and the construction of a 21-foot aggregate surface course. Completion date is scheduled for Oct 1.

Midnight Fire Destroys Shed, Threatens Home

Rapid River—Fire of undetermined origin, destroyed the wood shed adjacent to the L. E. Scott home early this morning and for a time threatened to destroy the residence which caught fire from the flames.

The blaze was discovered shortly after midnight by a tourist in one of the Napoleon Boudah cabins, who immediately turned in an alarm. Mr. and Mrs. Scott and family were asleep in the house and were awakened by the arrival of the Rapid River fire department.

The Gladstone fire department also was called when the flames threatened the residence, but the blaze was brought under control by the Rapid River unit.

Contents of the garage, wood and garden tools, and a large supply of wood piled outside the shed were destroyed.

Commission Studies Michigan Unity

THE appointment of a 12-man commission to concsider means of linking the two peninsulas of Michigan more firmly, announced by Governor Williams' office yesterday, should serve a useful purpose.

Even if the commission fails in its task of finding methods to improve the physical, political and cultural unity between the two peninsulas, as Governor Williams directed, the commission should at least succeed in convincing many of the lower peninsula skeptics that there actually is more to the state of Michigan than an imprint of a hand on a map would indicate.

All too frequently lower peninsula groups, including a number of industrial concerns that should know better, picture the state of Michigan in the outline of a mitten. These groups conveniently disown the upper peninsula as a legal, actual and physical part of the state. Perhaps that's why the movement to encourage the Upper Peninsula to secede from the state and to organize itself into a sovereignty to be known as the state of Superior bobs up as frequently as it does north of the straits.

There is, of course, a large field in which the newly appointed commission can operate. The Upper Peninsula of Michigan has always maintained closer relationships with Wisconsin and Illinois than with the Lower Peninsula of Michigan. This situation has naturally developed because of better transportation connections with those areas.

The upper peninsula fully welcomes realization of the objectives outlined by the governor to the new commission. We hope that the commission succeeds in fulfilling its task.

Free Speech Again Upheld In Court

A BALTIMORE COURT rule that imposed strict limitation on crime news between the time of a defendant's arrest and his trial was invalidated Thursday by a decision of the Maryland court of appeals. The decision constituted one more victory in the never-ending battle to preserve freedom of speech and freedom of press in this country.

Inasmuch as the American constitution provides specifically and in easily understood language for protection of the rights of free speech, it would seem that the battle for this freedom was won with the inclusion of the Bill of Rights in the U. S. constitution. Unfortunately, such is not the case. Lawmaking bodies throughout the country have a persistent habit of enacting legislation counter to the provisions of the constitution. Unless those who cherish the rights of American citizenship battle to preserve those rights, the people are in constant danger of having these rights gradually removed.

The courts of the land, particularly the U. S. supreme court, constitute a strong bulwark for protection of American liberties. The decisions of the court over the years demonstrate that the U. S. justices invariably defend and interpret the constitutional guarantees for the benefit of individual freedom. It is because of the court's vigorous defense of these guarantees that the American constitution is the envy of freedom-loving people throughout the world.

Killing Off The Florida Predators

THE Florida Wildlife Federation is putting the results of years of investigation into an all-out campaign for the destroying of predatory ground animals and birds in that state.

Federation officers place first in volume of damage the common house cat, whose soft purring exterior conceals the heart of a killer. "The damage done to songbirds, young quail and turkeys, and birds' eggs by the house cat predator is almost unbelievable," says a Federation bulletin. "Its favorite pastime is killing birds and destroying their nests."

The bulletin could have added that house cats are dangerous, disease-breeding pets that carry far more germs than does the average dog. Many an individual's illness came into the house originally on the body or in the mouth of a germ-carrying cat.

Next in order as Florida offenders are listed bobcats, panthers, skunks, foxes, opossums, raccoons and armadillos. Predator birds include Cooper's hawk, the sharp shinned hawk, the black crow and the great horned owl. Snakes and turtles are listed as minor predators.

Conditions in Florida are different from those in any other state, according to the bulletin. This is the last frontier state, and with hundreds of thousands of unexplored acres of everglades and swamplands as havens for predators, the job of elimination or control is bound to be a difficult one.

It is estimated, for example, that there are still more than 200,000 bobcats or wildcats within the confines of the state. Some hunters have not missed a week of cat hunting in 20 years. One man killed 325 bobcats in Florida's smallest county. At that rate the hunting should be number one, both for the home folks and their winter visitors.

Forecast For Last Half, '49

WASHINGTON IS having rather a tough time totting up the business pros and cons for the remaining six and one-half months of 1949. There are plenty of 'ifs' and 'buts' in the summary.

The political and financial sharps are of the opinion that real estate is still much too high, and the mortgage debts of municipalities and communities are mounting at an exceptionally rapid rate. Business expansion, what there is of it, is being maintained by government spending for defense and foreign aid.

Prices, including those of non-ferrous metals, have been leveling off. Farm products and foods in many cases have ceased to sky-rocket, but millions are still groaning over living costs. There is a new high in bank savings, but this doesn't mean what it would in normal times, since only about one-half as much merchandise or services can be bought with the total.

The value of gross national product remains about three times than of 1939. But unemployment is mounting, and investments in private construction are down, with new housing units continuing their many new homes unsold, with prospective decline. Meanwhile the larger cities report buyers unable to meet even the first modest down payment.

Business or plant construction remains high, and in this line the railroads, public utilities and manufacturing industries are doing their full share. Consumer expenditures are now 60 per cent of the country's turnover. Government spending is still astronomical for peace times, and the present Congress could take the bull by the horns and lop off a billion or two, but there does not appear to be much chance that the Hoover Commission's recommendations will be adopted. It's the old story. Politics is in the way. We may go bust later, but in the meantime our lawmakers are scratching each other's backs and looking out for number one.

SATISFACTIONS IN LIVING

(Christian Science Monitor)

She might be called Miss Minnie Meech. The name is unimportant except to two or three generations of young wigglers who have learned to sit up and think straight in her classes. She exists by the hundreds, and any name will do.

The point is that Miss Meech antedated the "teacher crisis." All her long life she has been poorly paid, as salaries go, but richly repaid, by her own reckoning. She has seen politics at work in a school board and ideals at work in a schoolroom. She has seen hours of effort apparently wasted and moments when listless young eyes suddenly lighted up with interest. She has given much more to her work than she needed to, and she has got much more out of life than a living.

There was the teacher who wrote on this page some time ago of her half-century of inspired teaching, of the boys in her class who in later years, during the war, sent her postcards from Joan of Arc's birthplace in France, each of them remembering the picture she had put on the wall and the stores she had told them about Joan's struggle and achievements.

There was the teacher who, retiring from 50 years of service in the Manhattan public schools the other day, declared:

> Some people might call me a failure, one of the "army of the unambitious," as elementary schoolteachers have been called. But I've always felt I belonged here in the lower grades where characters are built and foundations laid for the future.

She has led her own life, she added, and it has been a good one. She has traveled in Europe and through the United States. "I'm not a teacher 24 hours a day."

Miss Minnie Meech needs more publicity. She needs more pay and more consideration, too. But a good many bright-eyed young hopefuls starting out to earn a living could give more thought to the rich satisfactions she has found in a profession that needs a host of able new recruits.

A New Yorker who turned in a false alarm told police he was worried because he didn't have a home. He can stop worrying now.

MISCELLANEOUS QUESTIONS SPONTANEOUS ANSWERS

Santa Monica: My grandmother used the word "swidgin" in the meaning of a little bit, or a small portion. Is there such a word?—Mrs. M. R.

A. Smidgin (also spelled swidgen, smidgeon, smitchin) is a colloquial word derived from smitch, "a bit or particle." It's a quite familiar word in the South. A Southern housewife will speak of using, say "just a smidgen of salt" in a recipe. Smidgen rhymes with pigeon.

Oakland: During the broadcast of highlights of the Truman inauguration, John Daly said, "There is much gold braid and egg-yoo-ETS in evidence here." What, please, are "egg-yoo-ets"?—K. A.

A. Apparently the word intended as aiguillette, the ornamental cord or loop on some military and naval uniforms. The correct American pronunciation is: AY-gwi-LET".

Los Angeles: Since I've moved to California I've noticed that

> Some folks say
> (I wish they wouldn't),
> "Used to could,"
> And "used to couldn't."
> —Margaret Burgess.

Answer:

> Perhaps you've heard
> (Though rules forbid):
> "I coulda went,"
> And "coulda did."

St. Paul: Are there two pronunciations for the word inveigle?—Mrs. L. C.

A. The Standard American pronunciation is: in-VEE-g'l. The pronunciation "in-VAY-g'l" is obsolescent.

Safford: Recently I worked for a government bureau. The letters, releases, and intercommunications invariably carried the phrase "in respect of." This seems curiously archaic to me.—M. H.

A. It is. Merriam Webster's lists it as obsolete. Better: In respect to; or: With respect to.

San Bernardino: Please state in your column that the use of "Junior" is incorrect when the "Senior" is dead. For instance, Will Rogers dubs himself "Will Rogers, Jr."—J. R. LaG.

A. Sons of famous fathers usually retain the "Junior" after the "Seniors" have died. It is not incorrect. "Junior" is not a name or a title; it is simply the Latin word for "younger." Retaining "Junior" serves to distinguish the son from the deceased father. Examples: Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Statistics Do Not Tell Whole Story

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Because news that makes the headlines is almost always bad news, the latest figures on Americans at work were played up in such a ways as to show a new postwar peak in unemployment. If you read far enough, you find that employment has also risen in May to a total of 58,694,000 which was slightly higher than a year ago when no one was haunted by the spectre of deflation that now hangs over Washington.

Childs

That old saying about lies, damned lies and statistics is something to remember at the present moment. Certainly the figures on employment released by the census bureau are checked and rechecked. But nevertheless putting one set of figures alongside another set of figures can lead to some strange results that have not too much to do with what is really occurring.

Since mental attitudes have a lot to do with the ups and downs of business activity, the interpretation of the figures becomes pretty important. Consider as an example what is likely to happen when the employment statistics for the current month are released some time in early July.

PREDICT 4,000,000 JOBLESS

The total uemployed for May was 3,289,000. The government experts who follow this box score from day to day believe that the total for June will be close to 4,000,000, although for various reasons they will not go on the record with such a prediction. That 4,000,000 figure will produce scare headlines far beyond any real justification in the business picture, according to these same analysts.

What happened last June, when the country was still in the full tide of inflation, throws light on the true picture. From May of 1948 to June of 1948 what the experts call the total "labor force" increased by about 3,000,000 to a total of 63,479,000. At the same time in that period of peak prosperity the number of unemployed increased from 1,761,000 to 2,184,000.

The reason for these changes is obvious. Toward the end of May and all through June a lot of young people come out of highschools and colleges and start looking for either temporary or permanent jobs. Housewives decide to make a little extra money in the nearby canning factory or picking cheerries in neighboring orchards.

The census taker going around to check up on the families making up the sample on which the statistics are based lists all these people as part of the "labor force." And those who don't get jobs are recorded as unemployed.

NOT TOO DARK

This June the number of young people and housewives seeking jobs is likely to be larger than a year ago. Consequently also the number recorded as "unemployed" will be larger. But in terms of breadwinners actually looking for work and not finding it and needing it for support of their families, the picture will not be nearly as dark as the 4,000,000 total would indicate.

In July several million Americans will be recorded as having jobs but not at work. In this classification will be those on paid vacations and the number of American wage earners now entitled to holidays with pay is astonishingly large. The figure will also include workers laid off but told to report back for work on a definite day.

To lump all these with the unemployed would be to add even darker clouds to a picture already artifically darkened. And on the extreme left and the extreme right are those who want to do just that.

Certain communist dominated unions, conspicuously the United Electrical Workers, attack the official employment figures, trying in every way possible to show that they should be far higher. That is the basic strategy of communism in this country—to show that America is sinking into a depression. Gloomy figures or gloomy interpretations are propagandized by communism around the world.

At the other end of the political scale are ultra-reactionary Republicans who see in a depression a chance to discredit President Truman and all his works and come to power themselves. There are times when Republican strategy in this respect looks very much like the communist tactics.

For this country to fall into a depression psychosis with 60,000,000 people at work would be worse than nonsensical. It would be insane folly. In my opinion the census bureau should recast its figures to make them more nearly in accord with facts. There's no point in helping those who want to bring about the calamity of a depression.

The Relative Importance of Great Issues

Good Evening

NEAT AND CLEAN—Through the years there have been many persons who have been critical of those persons who will break glass on Escanaba streets and leave it as a menace to auto tires. It is a pleasure, therefore to pss along a report from one of our aides, who saw an example of carefulness.

Dunathan

One of the Clarence Sundquist milk delivery trucks in rounding the corner at First avenue south and 14th street had some bottles bounce out and break on the pavement. Our observer reports that the truck was halted and one of the men got out and carefully swept up the broken glass.

Perhaps this is the time for a reminder to parents to discourage their children from breaking bottles and other glass in alleys and streets. All too often these acts are deliberate. And they can be expensive to the motorist whose tires are damaged.

OFF THE BLOCK—Friends of George Marcouillier, manager of the local Bell Telephone company exchange, are exclaiming over his recent golfing exploit at the Gladstone Golf club course. George sliced one into the rough and finally found the ball resting on top of a log in a ditch. He played it from there, of course, and got back on the fairway in one shot. Not only that, but he was one of three Escanaba golfers who won awards in inter-club matches sponsored by the Gladstone Rotary Club. Rotarians from Munising, Manistique, Gladstone and Escanaba were entered.

EVERY ONE GOOD —There is a recent news report that Indians in some sections of the West are, for the first time, learning the many uses of electricity. The Blackfeet on their reservation are now switching from open fires to electric ranges. The electric light is replacing the kerosene lamp.

This brings to mind the story told recently in Escanaba to the Delta County Historical Society by R. A. Brotherton of Negaunee, former Escanaban. Presenting an illustrated talk to the Society, Brotherton flashed a picture of Charley Bawgam on the screen. Charley was one of the well-known Chippewa Indians in the Marquette area some 50 to 60 years ago.

Charley was working with a surveying party some 25 miles distant from Marquette and one day was sent to town for supplies. Included on the list of articles was a box of the new sulphur matches. On the way back to camp, Charley opened the box of matches, struck one of them, grunted in satisfaction and put the burned match back in the box.

Arriving in camp he was asked if he had the matches.

"Yes," Charley replied with satisfaction. "Box right there. Everything fine. Tried every one and all of them work good."

KIDS AND DOGS—An Escanaba woman who asks that her name will not be disclosed writes to comment on a recent column in which we told about parents who permit Junior to kick Aunt Ella in the shins because they are afraid to say "no."

"When Junior and his gang start those gun-toting games with mad rushes across gardens, through flower beds, over fences and up onto garage roofs I can't help but think about our pup—who must stay tied up all summer because of the damage he might do," she writes.

"There, I've said it—and I see murderous looks from people all around me. They will never believe I love children and also admire other things, like a garden and flowers. And lilac bushes not broken in half to obtain the flowers."

* * *

DEAR MADAM—This is not a murderous look, but one of pity. You are behind the times. You want children well-behaved, children who have consideration for property—their own and that of other people. There are a few children like that. Their parents are like that, too.

So don't blame the kids who "run wild." Because back of them are parents who are equally irresponsible. These parents don't call it irresponsibility. They believe in allowing children to "express themselves freely.'

Don't waste too much pity on your pup. He is safer and better cared for than many of those uninhibited children.

HORNING IN—The only recompense received by E. J. Eden for the damage a deer did to his gift shop in Escanaba was the free publicity. The deer jumped through the window and romped around the shop, causing damage estimated at $800—not covered by insurance.

Now comes Edward Dreier, director of publicity for Blaney Park and other resorts, with a statement that the deer that did the damage was not one from the Blaney Park herd. The deer at Blaney are well-behaved, Dreier reports. It must have been a Delta county deer.

Dreier's letter indicates the interest of a publicity agent in anything that brings newspaper comment. It looks like he is trying to "horn in" on Eden's deer story notices.

Where's The Light?

Dear Editor:

I read in the Press recently that a flasher light was installed at the mouth of the Ford River, but I've fished in that area several times this week and have not yet discovered any light in that area.

Some of the fishermen report that the light was working one or two nights, but I know there wasn't any light near the river mouth any time I was there. Perhaps it was just out of order temporarily. I hope so. The idea is a good one, if they'll only keep it working every night.

Correction

Dear Editor:

In honesty I can't even claim a typographical error on the word "wenches" in my letter the other day. Of course, I did mean "winches". Well, enjoy yourself. My face is red (from embarrassment). I misspelled a simple word. Thank you, Dear Editor, for your note giving people at least a doubt as to what I did mean. Horrible though, bridge raised and lowered by wenches, isn't it?

It doesn't take much imagination to see Andy P. Olafson bursting with laughter at my error.

Bing Crosby Was Here?

Dear Editor:

In Tuesday's paper under "Briefly Told" was mention of a Bing Crosby rumor. I also saw him in a certain store in Escanaba in the forenoon between 10 and 11 o'clock. Here's how I noticed him. A man passed by with a Bing Crosby walk, only not singing nor swinging a cane. I stopped, anxious to see his face. He did turn and I saw the side and was sure it was Bing.

I leaned a little to tell my husband, but Bing probably noticed that, and he stared directly at me and kept that stare at me until he left. His big blue eyes, actions and looks couldn't be mistaken if people saw his picture in color a year ago in July.

He had a business look on his face at this time, not daring to smile. He was only two arms' length from me. He knew that I recognized him. His aim was to get out of that store, before getting a crowd around him. I wonder how many more saw him besides us. He wore a dark suit, a dark hat and was very plainly dressed.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Richard Jaeger,
Park River.

Washington,—Despite one bad eye Ambassador Lew Douglas has concluded a long wrangle with the British for joint American recognition of the Chinese Communists. It won't be admitted officially, but the British wanted to recognize the Communists within two weeks after taking Shanghai. Motive: To save Hong Kong. The British have agreed to wait—with this proviso: They will be allowed to recognize the Chinese Communist regime a day or two ahead of the United States.

GENERAL VAUGHN'S BAUBLE

The congress still seems to take a dim view of giving foreign medals to poor Gen. Harry Vaughn. In fact, the are now blocking foreign medals to anybody.

Ever since George Washington's healthly precedent, Americans have been discouraged from accepting foreign medals—until quite recently. During the war, however, it became quite a fad in some Army-Navy circles—though it takes an act of congress before an American citizen can actually accept a foreign decoration.

Recently the Army tried to slip through a bill, granting Vaughan and others permission to wear foreign medals. But when Vaughan's name was discovered in the list, the house armed services committee dropped the medals like hot pennies.

The other day, as a trial balloon, a bill came before the senate authorizing some U. S. scientists to accept some British awards. This time they were civilians. But the debate lasted exactly two minutes. General Vaughan's name ended it all.

Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the senate armed services committee, had stood up to explain the bill.

"Congress," he droned, "passed a special act, applying only during the length of the war, which permitted military and other decorations during the war. But since that act has expired, it becomes necessary in each case, military or civilian, to have special legislation."

"Is the war over?" boomed out Ohio's Senator Robert Taft.

"I should say some phases of it seem to be going on with increased intensity," retorted Tydings, with a sardonic grin.

"Does this bill cover the general who is connected with the White House?" asked New Hampshire's Senator Charles Tobey.

"No, it does not," snapped Tydings. "It has nothing to do with any military personnel."

But though Vaughan's medal was not on the list, a motion by Republican leader Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska set the bill aside "temporarily." Meanwhile, the state department, as temporary custodian for all these medals, is turning into a glorified hock shop.

U. P. Tree Farms Dedicated At M-28 Logging Camp Near Munising

Gov. Williams Presents Certificates To Owners

Gov. G. Mennen Williams presented 18 certificates to owners of more than 600,000 acres of timberland enrolled in the Upper Peninsula's Tree Farm system at impressive ceremonies held at William Carlson's logging camp on M-28 near Munising Friday afternoon.

The dedication marked the formal launching of the Tree Farm program, sponsored jointly by the Michigan Forest Industries and the Michigan Conservation department.

About two hundred lumbermen, paper company executives, foresters and civic leaders enjoyed a whitefish-lake trout dinner served in lumber camp style. While speakers extolled the virtues of the Tree Farm program as private industry's own effort to promote selective cutting and other approved forestry practices, trucks roared out of the hardwood forest loaded with huge logs for the mills. At the conclusion of the speaking program, the crowd witnessed a demonstration of modern logging equipment and took a three mile tour of the selectively cut timber tract owned by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company.

18 Tree Farm Owners

Certificates and metal Tree Farm signs were presented by Governor Williams to the following land owners who have enrolled in the timber conservation program:

William Bonifas Lumber company, 112,335 acres; Bruce Buell, Amasa, 3,040; Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, 288,000; Copper Range company, 75,070; James Demulling, 60; Escanaba Paper company, 680; Abbott Fox Lumber company, 5,440; Frank J. Heinz, Manistique, 7,179; Manistique Pulp & Paper company, 15,360; Robert Matter, 160; Donald Y. McBeath, 29; National Container corporation, Ontonagon, 20,000; Northern Paper Mills, Green Bay, 91,239; Stanley and Chester Pribish, 80; Kenn Stephens, 240; Charles A. Torni, 64; Russell Watson, Manistique, 400; and Jean Worth, Cedar River, 580.

Michigan's certified Tree Farm acreage boosts the nation's total tree farm area to above the 18 million mark. Since V-J day 12 states have joined the system. Nearly 1,800 different ownerships, varying in size from tiny farm woodlots to large industrial tracts are represented. Michigan is the twenty-fourth state to join the American Tree Farm System.

Yesterday's dedication was the first in Michigan. The next will be in the Lower Peninsula in the fall when 86 owners will be enrolled in the Tree Farm program.

Fox Introduces Governor

Governor Williams was introduced by Abbott Fox of Iron Mountain, who presided as master of ceremonies on the speakers platform erected in front of the logging camp.

At the outset, the governor wisecracked that the newspapers have been commenting that he is just "a babe in the woods in politics," and added that he consequently felt at home in his forest surroundings.

"Fortunately today, there seems to be a healthy trend in the realization of the fact that the welfare of industry and the public is inextricably entwined," Governor Williams said. "The people, who are the source of all power and wealth, would eventually have insisted that our resources be preserved. But self-control is the best thing, and this Tree Farm dedication is an illustration of this fact because the people in industry have developed their own program, which is to be of vital interest to Michigan and the rest of the country."

"We are protecting our resources for ourselves, our children and our children's children," Governor Williams continued. "The conservation of our forests is vitally necessary for the health, prosperity and welfare of our people."

The governor pointed out that the forests are a source not only of wood, but of other benefits, such as the prevention of soil erosion, the regulation and conservation of the water supply. He emphasized the importance of protecting the water supply, pointing out that paper mills and other industries use a vast amount of water in their operations.

Ferguson Lauds Program

Dedication of Michigan's first certified tree farms was hailed as the beginning of a new era in the forest history of the state by Sidney Ferguson, New Yorfk, president of the Mead corporation and head of the American Forest Products Industries, Inc. The Mead corporation, parent concern of the Escanaba Paper company and the Manistique Pulp & Paper company, has been engaged in the making of paper in the United States for 102 years.

"The Tree Farm program is of vital importance to the economic security of the United States," Ferguson declared. "Judging by articles which have appeared from time to time in the press and magazines, there are still people who believe the forest industries are despoiling the forest resources of the country.

"As an executive of a pulp and paper company, I know in our own case, that it would be extremely foolish for us to have made the enlargements and improvements in our mills that have taken place just recently if we had not taken into account the basic necessity of having the raw materials to justify these large investments and insure their operation.

"Nevertheless, it is true that great stands of virgin timber, such as once blanketed this peninsula region, are no longer readily available, either to small tree farmers or large industrial timber operators. We must, therefore, grow today the wood we will want to cut tomorrow. We must protect and manage the successors to our once abundant forests.

"The Tree Farm program gives national recognition to that need and its purpose is to provide assurance of adequate and reliable quantities of saw logs, pulpwood and all the other wood products that will keep our vital forest industries rolling.

"What we are doing for the long-range good of the nation in this enterprise has great and promising local significance. Trees can be grown scientifically—and they can be grown profitably. Like grain, or corn, or sugar cane, trees are lucrative crops. Here in the Upper Peninsula, richly endowed by Nature for this type of farming, timber is not only the basic crop—it is the best crop.

"We now have 19 million acres of Tree Farms in the United States, of which there are some 1,800 individual owners, ranging in size from large industrial tracts to tiny farm woodlots. It is, may I say, in the best tradition of our free enterprise system and finds its roots in the voluntary cooperation of all of us to do a job—with faith, perseverance, and industry the results are assured."

Began 19 Years Ago

Bruce Buell, forester of the Northern Paper Mills of Green Bay, Wis., said that his company placed its holdings under a forest management program 19 years ago to assure itself of a future supply of pulpwood. He expressed his belief that the posting of Tree Farm signs on Upper Peninsula lands will encourage the owners not to return to the unwise forestry practices of the past. It should also win the good will and cooperation of the public, which will be made to realize that the "slash out and get out" policy of the so-called timber barons is a thing of the past.

Jay Price, Milwaukee, Wis., regional forester of the U. S. Forest Service, praised the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company for practicing sustained yield forestry for many years as a forerunner to the formal Tree Farm program now being inaugurated in the Upper Peninsula. He called attention to the fact that only 600,000 out of the 9,000,000 acres of forest lands are enrolled and there is room for many more enrollees in the Tree Farm system.

Price said the most progress in industrial forestry is being made with the owners of large tracts, particularly the pulp and paper companies who "realize it is good business to keep their lands productive." The need for enrolling owners of small timber tracts was pointed out by the regional forester.

L. J. Heinske, Ironwood, secretary-manager of the Timber Producers association, composed of more than 200 operators in Upper Michigan and Wisconsin, pledged the support of his group to the Tree Farm system. "We need to encourage the large and small operators to join in order to make this program a success," Heinske said. "It will help to perpetuate our timber industry and make the Upper Peninsula the best vacationland in the nation."

Charles Sage, vice president of the Kimberly-Clark corporation, Neenah, Wis., declared that by sound forestry practices, like the Tree Farm program embraces, will make it possible to conserve and increase our timber resources for the permanent benefit of posterity. He pointed that the paper industry is vitally interested in the program because it consumes from 12 to 15 per cent of the wood now produced in the United States.

P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the Michigan Conservation department, declared that the Tree Farm system is "the beginning of a new thing in the field of conservation in this state."

"We can safely say we never will have too many trees," Hoffmaster said. "Much land is not being used, and some land is producing trees of inferior quality."

C. C. I. Cuts Selectively

A. J. Erickson, manager of the land and lumbering department of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, in welcoming the visitors to the dedication site, said that the C. C. I. began interesting itself in forestry at the turn of the century.

The menace of forest fires was recognized early, Erickson said, and the C. C. I. joined with other large land owning companies in the formation of the Forest Protective association. Eventually its program of forest fire prevention was taken over by the Michigan Conservation department.

Carlson said that the C. C. I. now has 76,000 acres of timber land under a selective cutting program. Of the remainder of its 288,000 acres in the U. P., 132,000 acres are still in virgin forest and 80,000 acres are in second growth.

Francis Kiefer, president of the Port Huron Sulphite & Paper company and chairman of the executive committee, Michigan Forest Industries, traced briefly the history of lumbering in the state. Lumbering became Michigan's major industry at the time of the Civil war, he said. Lumber went first to the East and then out to the Western prairies where new towns and cities were springing up on fertile but treeless land. Demands for hardwoods to build wagons, ships, bridges and furniture zoomed.

"The days of the white pine are gone in Michigan," Kiefer said. "Now we have come to a modern and mature civilization with new demands on the forest industry. Wood is needed for pulp, paper and many other new forest products."

Kiefer said there are 56 pulp, paper and paperboard mills in Michigan, producing one and one-third million tons of paper and paperboard annually. To sustain this important industry there is a need for the continuity of our forest enterprises, he added.

After the dedication, Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his executive secretary, Lawrence Farrell, accepted an invitation to fish for walleyes in company with Gerald J. Cleary at H. J. Norton's cottage on the south shore.

GRAND MARAIS

Personals

Grand Marais, Mich.,—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lundquist sr., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lundquist jr., and Mrs. Sarah Senecal spent Tuesday in Marquette.

Sayre Ostrander spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Marquette where he visited Mr. and Mrs. Novack and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Earheart.

Scoop Chittenden suffered a slight stroke Monday at his home in Manistique. He will be laid up for about a week.

Graduates Return

The graduates and Supt. and Mrs. Walter Hampton returned to Grand Marais Monday from Washington, D. C.

They left Grand Marais on May 30 and went by school bus to Detroit where they embarked on the B & O's Ambassador for the nation's capital.

While in Washington they spent the greater part of their time on sight-seeing busses where they viewed the points of interest.

They were lucky enough to view President Truman and Margaret Truman one morning.

On their free evenings the graduates enjoyed night clubbing at the "Blue Mirror" where they danced to the music of a colored orchestra and one evening a "moonlight cruise" on the Potomac with orchestra and floor show and a stop at a Maryland amusement park.

Their free afternoon was spent shopping for gifts and souveniers and swimming in the pool.

Saturday they were back in Detroit where the graduates visited Eastwood park and the Hungarian village.

Sunday the boys attended the baseball games (Saturday afternoon also) while the girls visited with friends and relatives.

They returned to Grand Marais Monday after an exciting week's trip, ready to sleep for days, tired, but happy.

W. S. C. S.

The W. S. C. S. of the Community church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Isabell McCall.

FOR BETTER LIVING

Every Inch In This Home Useful

THERE'S NO WASTE SPACE in this neat cottage, "The New London," and it will make an economical as well as a comfortable home for a small family. The plan calls for a lot at least 50 feet wide.

Modern American living demands a small house designed without an inch of waste space.

Each room must be just large enough for the use that will be given it, never too big. Well placed windows, for light and ventilation, and simple travel throughout are requisites. Of course the outside must be attractive.

Just such a house is "The New London" submitted today by the "Home of the Week" Plan Service. In this livable little L-shaped dwelling the rooms are all on one floor: living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. The exterior has a charming, young dignity. With no attempt at sophistication, it is directly simple and pleasing.

50-Foot Lot Ample

A 50-foot lot will accommodate this house which is designed to present a narrow side to the street. It may have either a full or half basement, as preferred.

In the corner where the living room wing joins the main body of the house is the front entrance. This is given importance by circular brick steps and by its own tiny roof which is a continuation of the main roof. Glass panels in the door light the vestibule. Wide, small-paned windows, with panelled shutters, are nicely spaced on the white clapboard (or shingled) surfaces and the heavy end-chimney of brick picks up the color of the brick steps.

Simple but Attractive

The interior is very simply planned, with plenty of closets, including a special linen closet in the bathroom. The dining room is unusual in shape and size. A big bay window completely fills the outside end, flooding the room with light. This long, narrow type of dining room has been found ideal for a small family and lends itself readily to smart decoration.

The stairs to the second floor go straight up to storage space which is ventilated by slat louvres in the gable ends.

Complete plans and specifications for this house, "The New London," are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Daily Press, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

HOME-BUILDING STILL BOOMING

Expect Trend To Carry Through This Year

New York—The home-building boom is still going strong and should continue through the remainder of this year, according to the findings of a Business Week survey.

The magazine reports that all indications point to 1949 being the second-best year for postwar residential building—though there isn't much chance that it will top the 1948 record of 929,000 starts. With any luck, it will equal or better 1947's 849,000.

"On that basis," says the publication, "home building will be a solid prop under general business during the next six months—a time when a prop is likely to be very welcome."

Dollar volume of home construction will be down more than the number of starts, the article explanis, since construction is shifting rapidly to lower-cost dwellings.

"It is hard to make a clear-cut comparison with previous years," the magazine continues, "because you can get more house for your money now than you could a year ago. Prices of new homes are down perhaps five per cent on the average. And in the same period there has been a lot of improvement in the quality of the houses in a given price range."

The article points out that most of the big speculative builders covered by the survey say they are going ahead with the plans they laid out at the start of the year. If they have made revisions, the changes are more often upward than downward.

The real answer, the magazine adds, lies with the demand by the public. The big question now is not how many houses the builders can put up, but how many houses the public will buy since there aren't any more important production bottlenecks in the numerous fields of the building industry.

Novack Builds Six Tourist Cabins At Ford River Mills

A set of six tourist cabins and boat livery with floating dock, which John Novak is building on the east bank of the Ford Rover, on the old Ford River saw mill site, will be completed by June 15, Novac said today.

The cabins, 20 by 30 feet with the exception of one which is 28 by 30 feet, will have three rooms, finished in red cedar, knotty pine and Swedish wall board. Kitchens in the units will be completed this fall. All six will be furnished with bleached walnut furniture.

The septic tank was completed last week. Water will be supplied through a 1,000-foot pipe connected with the township well. The dock measures 12 by 16 feet, and raises and lowers with the water level in the Ford River. A large swimming hole in the river is accessible from the cabins and boats will be rented at the dock.

The cabins are frame-constructed and were designed by Novak. They set on concrete and will be finished exteriorally with wood products.

The tourist court is built between the old and new Ford River bridges on lots purchased following the sale of the old saw mill site last year by Wolford Peterson.

Novack began building about six weeks ago.

FURBLO
The Dependable Furnace
No matter what type of make furnace you buy you want dependability ... And that's what Furblo offers you. Only quality materials are used in the Furblo Furnace ... and scientific engineering makes it truly dependable!

WHY STEEL?
You may ask .. "why should I have a STEEL furnace, when so many cast iron furnaces have been sold?" Just because you should have the advantage of this modern advance in furnace manufacture. Scientific inspection of cast iron and steel shows that while cast iron is coarse and porous, steel is closely knit and fine. For cast iron to equal the tremendous strength of the ¼ inch Steel Combustion Chamber of the Furblo furnace, the cast iron furnace would have to be at least one inch thick.

Like KEEPING OUR HOUSE COOL IN A VACUUM JUG!
"WHAT a difference in comfort since we insulated our attic with Gold Bond ROCK WOOL
"Now we get a good night's rest in bedrooms that before were like ovens. The whole family has more pep, eats and feels better. Housework, too, is easier." Our customers often volunteer comments like this.
The reason is that Gold Bond Rock Wool insulation blocks the passage of heat in much the same way as the insulated walls of a vacuum jug.
In winter, the same principle works to keep precious warmth inside. The resulting fuel savings soon pay back more than the cost of the insulation and continue year after year.

Miss Lindquist, Lloyd Johnson Exchange Vows

Tall standards containing snapdragons, peonies and bridal wreath, graced the altars of Central Methodist church this afternoon for the wedding of Miss Elaine Lindquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lindquist, 223 North 18th street, and Lloyd Johnson of Escanaba Route One, son of the Felix Johnsons.

The vows were spoken at 2 o'clock before Rev. Karl J. Hammar.

Miss Marilyn Nicholson, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" and Mrs. Anna Harrod, organist, played the bridal music as the guests were assembling and the traditional brilal processional and recessional.

Bride in White Satin

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore white satin, her gown styled with an empire bodice, sweetheart neckline, long tapering sleeves and a full hoop skirt which formed a long train. Her fingertip veil of illusion, edged with lace, was caught to a coronet of seed pearls. As her jewelry she wore a strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, snapdragons and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Mrs. Raymond Thorbiornsen, who was her only attendant, wore pink organdy with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves, and full skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and pink and white snandragons and wore matching rosebuds in her hair.

Raymond Thorbiornsen served as Mr. Johnson's best man and ushering were John Holland and Clayton Lindquist.

A wedding dinner is being served at 5 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Lindquist are giving a reception at their home from 7 to 9 this evening. The tiered wedding cake and flowers in pink and white, the colors of the bridal party will form the decorative theme.

Home in Danforth

For the wedding and festivities following the ceremony Mrs. Lindquist, the bride's mother, selected a two piece dressmaker of navy crepe with white accessories and Mrs. Johnson is wearing a lilac ensemble with matching accessories. Both mothers have corsages of pink roses.

The newlyweds following their honeymoon will live in Danforth where Mr. Johnson is in business with his father. Both young people are graduates of Escanaba high school. The bride has been employed by the Hoyler Baking Company.

Guests at the wedding included Miss Agnes Mattson of Oshkosh.

WED IN DULUTH—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kessler who were married recently in Sacred Heart church, Duluth, are now at home in that city at 3923 West Sixth street. The bridegroom's parents Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kessler, formerly owned business interests in Escanaba, and were frequent guests here at the home of Robert's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kessler

Somes-Anderson Wedding Tonight

Miss Rosamond Somes, of Neebish Island, Mich., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Somes, and Charles Warren Anderson will speak their marriage vows before Rev. Otto H. Steen in a service this evening at seven o'clock at the First Methodist church. The ceremony will be followed by a reception which the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie F. Anderson, are giving at their home, 405 South 14th street. The young people will live in Houghton until Mr. Anderson completes his course at Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Annual Flag Day Luncheon Planned

Lewis Cass chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution has made plans to hold its annual flag day luncheon at the Log Cabin at 1 p. m. Monday.

OUTDOOR HIAWATHALAND

By Vic Powers

What, No Pike?

Walleyes continue to dominate the fishing scene, according to the entry blanks that are coming in. Elmer Swanson's 30 inch, 8¾ pound walleye held the leadership through the late days of May and up until last Saturday. Then Russell Faber's fish took over. Faber's walleye weighed 10 pounds, one ounce. It was 31 inches long and 16 one-eighth inches in girth. Faber caught his on a flatfish bait and Swanson's was on June bug and worms. Both fish came from the waters off the mouth of the Ford River.

Perch fishermen are still at it and bringing in some beauties although larger fish are thinning out in numbers. Duane Marenger, 10-year-old son of the Eugene Marengers, 202 Stephenson ave., caught one weighing one pound and 12 ounces in the bay off the Escanaba yacht harbor entrance, it was 13½ inches long and over 9 inches in girth.

Mrs. Betty Branyan, 127 Arbutus ave., Manistique landed a 3 pound 3 ounce brook trout from the Milakokia river that is the new leader in the brook trout class. Eighteen inches long the square tail was 10¾ inches in girth. It was lured by garden hackle lighted up by a flashing spinner. A two pound brown trout, 15¾ inches in length and 9 one-eighth inches in girth that the Rev. Karl J. Hammar of Escanaba caught from the Escanaba river on Monday is the new brown trout leader.

Rain Needed

Fishermen have added their complaints to those of the farmers and foresters over the lack of rainfall. Lowering water levels have brought many streams to mid-August conditions. With the rapidly rising fire hazard all fishermen and others in the outdoors must use extreme caution with fires, cigarettes and matches.

Some of the smaller streams are down alarmingly and, of course, anglers hitting the holes where the fish have concentrated make killings. Larger streams like the Escanaba, Whitefish and Sturgeon have water. However, a good share of the trout anglers don't care for those stretches of the rivers with good water supply under drought conditions. At any rate entries of trout in fishing contest thus far fail to reflect a great deal of activity.

• • •

Black Fly Bites

Fishermen are finding that baby oil acts as a deterrent against the current black fly plague. Turning cradlerobbers, they take the baby oil, which is the kind ordinarily usd by mothers to lubricate babies' sensitive skin, and rub it liberally over face, neck and arms. The film it forms, although slight, is sufficient to discourage the black fly pests. The oil offsets the parching effects of the sun, too. We find it soothing on mosquito bites too.

Curious and Playful

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ohman were treated to a pleasant sight at dusk, Thursday evening at their farm home near the Escanaba river north of the Ford farm when a doe and fawn played in a field for some time. They said that it was the first time that they had seen deer so unafraid so close to their home.

Members of the local rifle club report that deer have come out to see what the racket was about at their range near the ski park. On one occasion two deer came within a couple hundred yards and stood watching until shouts and waving arms set them off at an easy lope down the road.

Manistique-Northport Route In The Limelight

A special committee of the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday evening at the court house for further discussion of the proposed auxiliary auto ferry service between Northport and Manistique.

J. R. Van Arnan, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Gladstone, attended the meeting.

The group discussed the better possibilities of the Manistique-Northport route over the one proposed between Frankfort and Menominee. Plans were made to call another committee meeting in the near future to which representatives from the Northport and Traverse City area would be invited. A large general meeting was also discussed with plans to invite representatives from political and service groups in other upper peninsula counties and cities, to be held at some central point in the area.

The committee at the meeting consisted of: Leonard Harbick, Carl Olson, Gordon Denny, Alvin Nelson, John Girvin, William Moreau, Fred Heltman, Floyd Sample, William J. Sheahan, D. M. Creeger, Francis Schon and Walter Nelson.

Lois DeCelle To Edit High School Paper

Announcement was made this week of the the appointment of Miss Lois DeCelle, Manistique high school senior, as next year's editor-in-chief of the high school paper, the "Crier".

Assisting her in running the publication will be: Edith Kristofferson, Margo Viergever, and Lorraine Anderson, assistant editors; Natalie Ammann, assistant feature editor; George MacFarlane, sports editor; Lorne Lustila, assistant sports editor; Joyce McNamara, business manager; Joan Sheahan, advertising manager; Joan Vaughan, circulation manager and fashion editor.

Miss DeCelle, an active member of the staff, has earned a small letter and is a member of the Quill and Scroll. This year she had earned enough inches for a large letter, but was ineligibe by virtue of the fact she was only a junior and in her second year of journalism.

What, No Pike?

Walleyes continue to dominate the fishing scene, according to the entry blanks that are coming in. Elmer Swanson's 30 inch, 8¾ pound walleye held the leadership through the late days of May and up until last Saturday. Then Russell Faber's fish took over. Faber's walleye weighed 10 pounds, one ounce. It was 31 inches long and 16 one-eighth inches in girth. Faber caught his on a flatfish bait and Swanson's was on June bug and worms. Both fish came from the waters off the mouth of the Ford River.

Perch fishermen are still at it and bringing in some beauties although larger fish are thinning out in numbers. Duane Marenger, 10-year-old son of the Eugene Marengers, 202 Stephenson ave., caught one weighing one pound and 12 ounces in the bay off the Escanaba yacht harbor entrance, it was 13½ inches long and over 9 inches in girth.

Mrs. Betty Branyan, 127 Arbutus ave., Manistique landed a 3 pound 3 ounce brook trout from the Milakokia river that is the new leader in the brook trout class. Eighteen inches long the square tail was 10¾ inches in girth. It was lured by garden hackle lighted up by a flashing spinner. A two pound brown trout, 15¼ inches in length and 9 one-eighth inches in girth that the Rev. Karl J. Hammar of Escanaba caught from the Escanaba river on Monday is the new brown trout leader.

Rain Needed

Fishermen have added their complaints to those of the farmers and foresters over the lack of rainfall. Lowering water levels have brought many streams to mid-August conditions. With the rapidly rising fire hazard all fishermen and others in the outdoors must use extreme caution with fires, cigarettes and matches.

Some of the smaller streams are down alarmingly and, of course, anglers hitting the holes where the fish have concentrated make killings. Larger streams like the Escanaba, Whitefish and Sturgeon have water. However, a good share of the trout anglers don't care for those stretches of the rivers with good water supply under drought conditions. At any rate entries of trout in fishing contest thus far fail to reflect a great deal of activity.

* * *

Black Fly Bites

Fishermen are finding that baby oil acts as a deterrent against the current black fly plague. Turning cradlerobbers, they take the baby oil, which is the kind ordinarily usd by mothers to lubricate babies' sensitive skin, and rub it liberally over face, neck and arms. The film it forms, although slight, is sufficient to discourage the black fly pests. The oil offsets the parching effects of the sun, too. We find it soothing on mosquito bites too.

* * *

Curious and Playful

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ohman were treated to a pleasant sight at dusk, Thursday evening at their farm home near the Escanaba river north of the Ford farm when a doe and fawn played in a field for some time. They said that it was the first time that they had seen deer so unafraid so close to their home.

Members of the local rifle club report that deer have come out to see what the racket was about at their range near the ski park. On one occasion two deer came within a couple hundred yards and stood watching until shouts and waving arms set them off at an easy lope down the road.

Manistique-Northport Route In The Limelight

A special committee of the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday evening at the court house for further discussion of the proposed auxiliary auto ferry service between Northport and Manistique.

J. R. Van Arnan, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Gladstone, attended the meeting.

The group discussed the better possibilities of the Manistique-Northport route over the one proposed between Frankfort and Menominee. Plans were made to call another committee meeting in the near future to which representatives from the Northport and Traverse City area would be invited. A large general meeting was also discussed with plans to invite representatives from political and service groups in other upper peninsula counties and cities, to be held at some central point in the area.

The committee at the meeting consisted of: Leonard Harbick, Carl Olson, Gordon Denny, Alvin Nelson, John Girvin, William Moreau, Fred Heltman, Floyd Sample, William J. Sheahan, D. M. Creeger, Francis Schon and Walter Nelson.

Lois DeCelle To Edit High School Paper

Announcement was made this week of the the appointment of Miss Lois DeCelle, Manistique high school senior, as next year's editor-in-chief of the high school paper, the "Crier".

Assisting her in running the publication will be: Edith Kristofferson, Margo Viergever, and Lorraine Anderson, assistant editors; Natalie Ammann, assistant feature editor; George MacFarlane, sports editor; Lorne Lustila, assistant sports editor; Joyce McNamara, business manager; Joan Sheahan, advertising manager; Joan Vaughan, circulation manager and fashion editor.

Miss DeCelle, an active member of the staff, has earned a small letter and is a member of the Quill and Scroll. This year she had earned enough inches for a large letter, but was ineligibe by virtue of the fact she was only a junior and in her second year of journalism.

Newly Elected City Manager Formally Accepts

The position of city manager and city engineer of Manistique, has been accepted by H. W. Heideman, of West Branch, it was reported this week by Mayor Walter Burns.

Chicago Cubs Get Shot In Arm; Grimm Moves To Office; Frisch Is Boss

Boston, June 11 (AP)—Convinced that his Chicago Cubs need a baseball man in the front office and that his transfer to such a post "is the best thing for the club," Charlie Grimm will lead his team on the field for the second last time today.

Jolly Cholly will become vice president in charge of baseball operations and the man he selected, Frankie Frisch, the old "Fordham Flash", will succeed him as field manager.

Frisch, signed to a contract which will run through 1951, will asume his new post in Chicago next Monday when Jimmy Gallagher, who has been general manager of the National league team, will become vice president in charge of business matters.

Owner Philip K. Wrigley told of these changes yesterday a few hours before the Cubs slipped into the National league cellar after being whipped 6-2 by the Boston Braves while the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the New York Giants.

Best Interest

"The change was for the best interest of the club," Grimm told baseball writers.

"Mr. Wrigley flew into New York and we talked over the entire situation. He was worried about my health and that the poor showing of the team might be injurious to me.

"The players have given me their best and I'll take the rap for our showing just as I gave them credit for winning three pennants in ten years for me as manager.

"There's nothing wrong with my health. Of course, I'm disappointed, who wouldn't be.

"I didn't want to be kicked upstairs. We talked it all over and Wrigley convinced me he needed a baseball man in the front office because baseball has become such a vast business.

"A big league club needs one man to handle the business end and another to run the baseball end."

Complete Charge

In New York Frisch had little to say beyond agreeing with statements made here by Grimm, "I'll have complete charge on the field. No, I don't know too much about the Cubs. You don't know a team until you live with the players."

Wrigley told interviewers "I felt the move was necessary to give the Cubs another baseball man in an executive position. Charlie will live longer in his new job."

The move came soon after Wrigley, Grimm, Gallagher and other executives had met in Chicago.

Wrigley admitted "I haven't been too happy with the way the club has been going but I'm confident it will win with Frisch managing and Grimm upstirs backing him. It's just the combination we need to get ahead."

The famous Fordham Flash returns to the major league's managerial ranks as boss of the Chicago Cubs after more than two years absence from headache row.

He's Been Around

Frisch is a "McGraw" type of manager, give no quarter ask no quarter. He began his major league career with the Giants in 1919, fresh from the Fordham campus.

Frisch got his first shot at managing on July 24, 1933, when he replaced Gabby Street as boss of the Cards. The following season he led the famous Gashouse gang to the pennant and a world series triumph over Detroit.

Frisch remained at the Card helm until September 1938 when he was released. He broadcast Boston Braves games in 1939 but the lure of the diamond was too much and he accepted the job of managing the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1940.

The Pirates did little to make Frisch's life happy during his seven year stay. Their best was a second place finish in 1944.

Also on tap Sunday evening at Gladstone's lighted field as a game between the Gladstone Bungalow's and the Escanaba K-Cs. . . This tilt is slated to get underway at 8:30. . . People's Bar players going to Gladstone tomorrow are asked to meet at Kessler's hotel in Escanaba at 6:30.

On tap at Memorial field Sunday night is a game between the Daily Press and St. Joe Boosters, undefeated rivals in Oldtimer league plty, at 7:15 and a game between Paper Mill and Nu-Way Cleaners at 8:45.

U. P. Junior Softball Meet Here In August

In conjunction with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Amateur Softball association national softball program, the first annual Upper Peninsula junior softball tournament will be held in Escanaba August 5, 6 and 7, George Grenholm, Escanaba recreation director, announces.

The winner of the tourney will be eligible to compete in the national tournament in Arkansas later in the summer.

Entry blanks will be sent to all recreation directors in the Upper Peninsula, Grenholm said. The entry deadline is July 29.

Defending champion is the VFW post, Whittier, Calif., and the runnerup last year was the Springfield, Mo., entry.

To be eligible to participate, youths must not be over 16 as of January 1, 1949, or the same age rule that governs participation in the American Legion and Ford Motor company junior baseball program.

All games will be played at Escanaba's lighted Memorial field.

Fast Chatham Nine Invades For Inaugural

Game Starts At 2 On City Diamond

The stage is all set for the opening game in the Waubung Baseball league at the city diamond at 2 here tomorrow afternoon when the defending champion Escanaba Cubs will clash with Chatham, the only team that has ever defeated the Cubs in junior league competition.

That alone gives you some idea of what to expect tomorrow. Coach Alvin P. Ness' Escanabans have more than ample respect for the always dangerous and ever capable Chatham aggregation.

With both teams apparently strengthened by the addition of new talent and another year's seasoning behind 1947 and 1948 standbys, the Waubung opener tomorrow shapes up as a battle royal.

Paterick On Mound

Bob Paterick will start on the mound for the Cubs, with Ron Sedenquist, veteran Escanaba high school catcher, receiving.

The batting order and complete starting lineup follows: Tom Schwalbach, shortstop; Joe Johnston, second base; Charley Olson, rightfield; Jim Nyquist, firstbase; Paul Baldwin, centerfield; Dick Johnson, thirdbase; Sedenquist, Mike Greis, leftfield, and Paterick.

Young Schwalbach has shown considerable at shortstop, a position new to him but one in which, in practice at least, he has taken over like a veteran. He was used as a hurler during the past season with the Escanaba Eskymos but is now tabbed as a shortstop or a promising youngster who could fill any post.

Get Behind Team

Available for utility duty for the Cubs are Bill Fallmer, Paul Davidson and Jim Valentine, outfielders; Paul Gunderman, infielder; Ken Gunderman, firstbase, and Jack Chriske and Joe Boddy, hurlers.

Five of this group played last season. They are Chriske, who turned in several nice pitching jobs; Johnston, Johnson, Olson and Sedenquist.

With the Escanaba Bears not appearing on the baseball horizon this season, it is hoped by the Cub management that all baseball fans of Escanaba and vicinity will get behind the Cubs in their drive to the first Waubung championship.

LALONDE TO PITCH GLADSTONE OPENER

Gladstone, June 11—The Gladstone Legion Juniors swing into action this weekend when they play the Munising Juniors at the Bayshore diamond at 2 Sunday afternoon in their first competition in the Waubung league.

The league is operating under the national American Legion program for junior boys baseball.

The locals have been holding regular practice sessions and after their workout this afternoon should be in top shape for the game. Little is known of Munising's strength but it always fields a good team, so a hard game is anticipated.

Red LaLonde, a promising right hander who did well last seasan will be on the mound for the locals with Dick Pilon receiving.

In the infield will be Jimmie Quinn at 1st base, Wayne Marmilick at second, Lowell LaPlant at shortstop and Neil Sinclair at third while outfielders will be Alger Strom, Bill Bovin and Larry Jacobson.

The squad of 32 aspirants is to be cut to 16, the limit allowed by rules governing the junior baseball program, Gordon Haga, manager, says.

Manistique Host To Negaunee For Rainbow Go Sunday

Manistique, June 11—With each team eager to get into the thick of the championship race in the Rainbow league, the Manistique Cardinals will be host here at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon to Negaunee. The rivals each have won two and lost two to date.

Last Sunday Negaunee beat Gladstone, 2-1, and Manistique lost to Diorite by 6-3. Fred Lessica reports that Clyde Strassler, who just returned from the University of Michigan, will be behind the plate with either Carlson or Adams pitching. Strassler played with the Manistique Red Birds last season.

Other Manistique starters will be E. Kane at shortstop, H. Weber at second base, Lesica at first base, "Home Run" Rhoads at third base, Hellesten at letttield, D. Martin at center and H. Archey at rightfield.

GO TO DIORITE

Gladstone, June 11—The Cladstone Redskins, who bowed to Negaunee by 2-1 last Sunday, will attempt to start winning the close ones when they engage a hot little Diorite team in a Rainbow league feature in Diorite tomorrow.

Players going to Diorite are asked to meet at 11 Sunday morning.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

With the Waubung (Tomorrow, that is) Baseball league getting underway Sunday afternoon and Escanaba's capable Cubs set for a third consecutive championship bid, perhaps you should know more about the nation's expansive junior baseball program.

* * *

And while you're learning, why not drive by the city diamond adjacent to the Escanaba high school athletic field and just south of Goulais' acres and watch the Cubs open the season against Chatham at 2 tomorrow afternoon. You're going to drive someplace on a Sunday afternoon. Everybody does. Cub Cach Al Ness says you might just as well make it the ball field.

* * *

If you're in Gladstone, watch Gordon Haga's Gladstone juniors tangle with the Munising juniors in another Waubung opener. And if you usually hang your hat in Trenary on a Sunday afternoon, watch the Manistique-Trenary Waubung inaugural.

* * *

These six teams constitute the Waubung league, which for the past two seasons has been known as the Tri-County Junior but which was changed to avoid confusion with the Tri-County Senior league. We won't go into who stole whose name. It's not necessary. Waubung is here to stay. Al Ness likes it. John Schwalbach likes it. Gordon Haga and George Mathison like it. And the youngsters like it because they never had any love for that "junior" tag on the Tri-County handle.

* * *

The six Waubung nines are among nearly 16,000 junior baseball teams sponsored by the American Legion and Ford Motor company. They are eyeing the national tournament in Indianapolis. Immediately the six Waubungers are eyeing the eleventh district championship. The winner will play the twelfth district champions for the U. P. title at the U. P. American Legion convention here July 15, 16 and 17. The Escanabans lost to Houghton, 5-0, in the finals in Ishpeming last year.

* * *

This is the 22nd season of American Legion junior baseball, and more than a million teen-age boys will participate in it. The youngsters are well treated and they're learning baseball under competent coaches. Locally, much credit is due Al Ness for his interest, enthusiasm and all-around support and to the local co-sponsors, the Northern Motors and Cloverland American Legion post.

* * *

Inasmuch as the U. P. finals will be held here during the U. P. Legion convention, more interest than usual is being generated in the junior baseball program here.

Girl Softballers To Meet at Royce

All Escanaba girls' softball players are asked to meet at Royce park at 2 tomorrow afternoon. Practice games will be played this coming week, and the league will start the following week.

The first practice games will be played at Ludington and Webster parks Tuesday evening at 6:30 and the second round is set for 6:30 Thursday evening.

CITY JUNIOR DIAMOND DATA

The schedule for junior baseball and softball play in Escanaba next week follows:

Monday—Royce park, 10 a. m. (5-10 group)—Breitenbach's Grocers vs. Cliff's Cash Market; 1 p. m. (11-13)—Coyne's vs. Meier's; 3 p. m.—Danforth 4-H club vs. Kiwanis Black and White. (Baseball).

Tuesday—Dock diamond, 6 p. m. (14-17)—Escanaba township vs. Hire's Flat Rock PTA vs. Wells township (Softball).

Teams will not be scheduled until their entries are received. Entries will be accepted all day at Royce park.

Merchants Clash With An Old Rival At 8:45 Tonight

The Escanaba Merchants will resume their three-year rivalry with Hosking and Harvey of Iron Mountain when the two teams clash at 8:45 tonight at Memorial Field.

Opening the program will be a game at 7:30 between the strong St. Joe Booster club and the P&C.

In two previous contests, the Merchants beat Hosking and Harvey in Escanaba and Hosking and Harvey beat the Merchants in Iron Mountain. So, the exhibition fare tonight presents one of those grudge, rubber, sawoff tilts in which the rivals square off ready to tear each other to pieces.

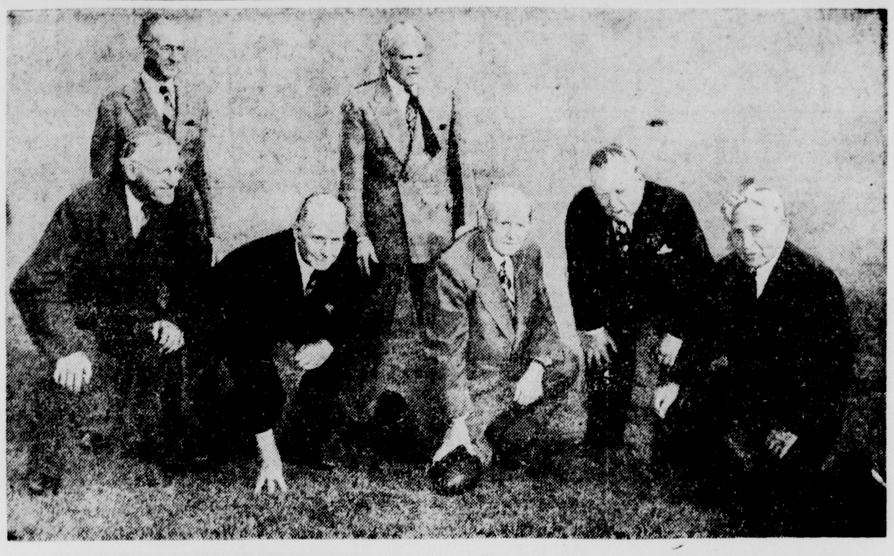

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching—Vic Raschi, Yankees—Became major league's first nine-game winner with 3-2 victory over Cleveland, allowing only five hits.

Batting—Gran Hamner, Phillies—Led Phils to 3-2 victory over St. Louis with double and three singles.

Football was first proposed at the University of Mississippi in 1890, and the first game was played Nov. 11, 1893, with the Rebels beating Southwest Baptist of Jackson, Tenn., 56-0.

Medinah Still Rough On Name Pros In U. S. Open

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—Balding Al Brosch, a David among golf's Goliaths, clutched a one-stroke lead today as the 49th National open entered a pressure-packed 36-hole windup.

With some of the game's greatest champions unqualified on the sidelines, the sunburned, 37-year-old outsider from Garden City, N. Y., headed a field pruned from 142 to 51 survivors. Brosch posted a 36-hole 141. The deadline was 150.

The near-sighted Brosch, who quips that he is lucky even to see the ball, coupled a par 71 with his opening round of 70. He reached the halfway point a mere stroke ahead of another "unknown," easy-going Buck White of Greenwood, Miss., and the prominent Cary Middlecoff.

Middlecoff Has 67

Middlecoff, boyish ex-dentist who has been bagging tourney golf gold for three years, rebounded from a dismal 75 to a course record-matching 34-33—67 for the tree-infested, 6,981-yard Medinah No. 3 layout.

White, a former caddy, blazed into contention with a pair of 34's for 68 to go with his opening 74.

Bracketed at 143 were Claude Harmon, the 1948 Masters' winner, who authorized 72-71; veteran Clayton Heafner with 72-71, and Les Kennedy.

Kennedy the young Rhode Island redhead from Pawtucket, scored 74 after copping the first round lead with a 69.

Another lesser-light, Pete Cooper of Ponte Verda Beach, Fla., notched a second round 73 for 144.

Ellsworth Vines, Bobby Locke and 20-year-old Bob Harris were next with 145.

Six Champions Out

Only five strokes off the pace at 146 were Ralph Guldahl, ancient Bobby Cruickshank, Johnny Palmer, Jack Isaacs of Longley Air Base, Va., and Sammy Snead, who posted two 73's.

Among those grouped at 147 were Lew Worsham, the 1947 National open king; Jimmy Thomson, Freddie Haas, Skee Riegel, Horton Smith and Jim Turnesa.

Turnesa, third in the 1948 open won by Ben Hogan with a record 276, blazed a 69 on his second trip.

Six former National open champions failed to get under the 150 qualifying figure. They were Byron Nelson (74-77, including a complete whiff), Gene Sarazen (75-79), Tony Manero (79-78); Chick Evans (76-76); Billy Burke (76-80) and Lawson Little (77-76).

Michigan Big Three

Three from Michigan—Chick Harbert, Sam Byrd and Horton Smith— survived. Smith made it with 147 and the others with 148.

Harbert, after a brilliant first day 70, slumped to a 78. He appeared upset when one of his shots hit a spectator on an early hole and he never did get back on the beam.

Sidelined were many big names in golf, such as Frank Stranahan, Smiley Quick, Bob Hamilton, Denny Shute, Dutch Harrison and Dick Metz.

Jimmy Demaret, who opened with an 82, did not start his second round. Bud Ward, former national amateur titlist, flubbed his first tee shot and picked up. He said he was ill. His first round was 75.

With 14 players within five strokes or less of the lead and a long 36 holes to struggle through to the finish, there is a good possibility of a fifth tie within the last seven National opens. If this should occur, it will be played off Sunday over 18 holes.

TIGES MEET NATS

Detroit, June 11 (AP) — Those stampeding Detroit Tigers, hot in a winning streak, chased after more of the same today. After a day off yesterday, Detroit clashed with the Washington Senators in the opener of a new series following upon the sensational humbling of the New York Yankees.

Phils Stop Cards, 3-2; They're Dark Horse In National Pennant Chase

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tab the fighting Phillies as the dark horse in the National league race.

Coming strong after a faltering start, Eddie Sawyer's young men have passed the fading New York Giants to move into the first division. They're only three games back of Brooklyn.

Kenny Heintzelman's 3 - 2 decision over the sizzling St. Louis Cardinals last night was the Phils' fourth straight victory and their seventh in the last eight games. Even more important, they're winning the close ones.

A record of 12 victories in 21 one-run decision games is the answer to the Phils progress.

Heintzelman ended the Card surge after six successive wins, dropping the birds a game and a half back of leading Brooklyn. The Dodgers protected their half-game edge on Boston by whipping Cincinnati, 10-5, while the Braves were dropping Chicago into the cellar, 6-2.

Gran Hamner, brilliant shortstop prospect of the Phils, hammered Al Brazle and his successors for four hits to pace the Phils' attack. He scored two of the three runs. It was the first setback for Brazle in almost a month.

The Dodgers broke loose with a six-run seventh inning climaxed by Carl Furillo's two-run homer, to give Joe Hatten his fifth victory. Despite two homers by Jimmy Bloodworth, who drove in four runs, Hatten went all the way.

Southpaw Bill Werle helped Pittsburgh escape from the basement after a two-week stay when he spun a neat three-hitter against the New York Giants, 6-1. The loss was the Giants' fifth straight. They now have dropped all the way from first to fifth in five days.

Vic Raschi put the New York Yankees back on the win path, snapping a four - game losing string, with a 3-2 edge over Cleveland. It was the ninth victory for Raschi and his fifth in a row.

The Yanks chased starter Gene Bearden before he retired a man in the first inning. A double by Phil Rizzuto, Gene Woodling's single, a walk and Yogi Berra's single hung loss No. 5 on the world series hero.

Raschi lost his shutout and almost blew the game in the ninth when the Tribe rallied before 67,031, the largest Cleveland crowd of the season. A walk to Thurman Tucker, Larry Doby's triple and Joe Gordon't single gave the Indians two runs. Raschi ended the game by making Manager Lou Boudreau ground to Jerry Coleman.

Rain washed out a night game between the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns. Washington and Detroit were not scheduled.

Cubs Shoved Into Cellar

Boston, June 11 (AP)—The Boston Braves dropped the Chicago Cubs into the National League cellar by capturing the opener of a four game series, 6-2, last night. Lefty Warren Spahn held the Cubs to six hits.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that I take this means of expressing my deep appreciation and thanks to all of my neighbors, relatives and friends for their kindnesses shown me in my recent sad bereavement, the death of my beloved mother, Mrs. Joseph Drengacz Stosel. I am very grateful to The Clergy of Marquette Diocese, to those who served as pallbearers, to those who offered the use of their cars, sent flowers and spiritual bouquets and to all others who in any way helped to lighten my burden of sorrow. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.
Signed:
Rev. Father Thomas Drengacz.
8756-162-1t

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks for kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement, the death of our son and brother, Howard. To those who sent spiritual and floral bouquets and other expressions of sympathy and especially the Sheriff and Police Dept., Coast Guard, Pioneer Aviation and all who assisted in the recovery of the body. These acts of kindness will always remain with us.
Signed:
LEE A. WILES,
KATHRYN WILES,

MARIE D. PETERS,
Register of Probate.

NOTICE OF PAVING
Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the City Council, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of Escanaba proposes to make the following improvement, viz:
To pave with black-top paving material, the 1400 block on South 13th Street, 9th Avenue South from 16th Street to 18th Street, 18th St. South from 4th Ave. S. to 5th Ave. S. and 18th Street North from 4th to 5th Aves. N., that specifications, plans and estimates of cost have been filed in my office and are open for public examination.
The Council has designated as the district to be assessed for said improvement, all the lots and parcels of land fronting and abutting upon said proposed improvement, the same to be assessed according to frontage thereon.
The Council will meet at its regular session on the 16th day of June, 1949, and will hear objections to the improvement as aforesaid and to the district to be assessed.
Dated June 10, 1949.
GEORGE M. HARVEY,
City Clerk.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENT
To—A. E. Hendrickson, August Erickson, Denham H. Lord, John H. Moline, Thomas Tomlinson, Del LaComb, Emil Dulek, Gunnar Hornblad, Patrick Mullen, Mary Flynn, and to all others interested,
TAKE NOTICE, that the roll of the special assessment heretofore made by the Assessor for the purpose of defraying that part of the cost which the Council decided should be paid and borne by special assessment, for the construction of a black-top pavement on South 18th Street from 8th to 9th Avenue South and 1st Avenue North from 19th to 20th Street, is on file in my office for public inspection.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council will meet in the council chambers of the City Hall on Thursday, June 16, 1949, at the hour of 7:30 p. m. to review said assessment at which time and place opportunity will be given all persons interested to be heard.
Dated June 10, 1949.
GEORGE M. HARVEY,
City Clerk.

U OF M CONFERS DEGREES TODAY

Seven From Escanaba Are Graduated

Seven Escanaba students received degrees at commencement exercises held at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor today.

They are Kenneth Harold Beaudry, 416 South 16th street, bachelor of science in engineering; John McCauley Madden, 602 Lake Shore drive, bachelor of arts; Florence Isabelle Olson, 306 Lake Shore drive, bachelor of science; Robert Elliott Olsen, 703 South 14th street, bachelor of arts; William Bruce Stegath, master of arts; Robert Lincoln Temby, 510 South 10th street, bachelor of arts; and Mary Margaret Walch, 709 Fifth avenue south, bachelor of arts.

Herbert Conrad Dahl of Gladstone received his bachelor of science degree in forestry and Priscilla Ann Nebel of Gladstone received her bachelor of arts degree. Viola Elo of Rock took her bachelor of arts degree.

From Schoolcraft county, Shirley Louise Maitland of Manistique received her bachelor of arts degree and Kenneth Carl Schubring, also of Manistique, received his master's degree in business administration.

Edward Miron Chudacoff of Munising received a bachelor of music degree in composition; Ludwig Mikulich of Munising received a bachelor of science degree in engineering; and James Arthur Seglund of Munising received his master of science degree in engineering. William Howard Mikulich of Traunik took his bachelor of science degree.

Other U. P. Graduates

John Smalter of Menominee; Thomas Rasmussen of Stephenson; Lamont Engle of Skandia; Jerome Hoefferle of Ontonagon; Eli Harju of Rudyard; Amy Adams, Vergene Cowell, Roy Levin, Robert McPherson and Waldo Murphy of Sault Ste. Marie; Willard Baker, Martin Browning, Nancy Cochran and Norman Cohodes of Iron Mountain; Jerome Vangasse and Kenneth Wiele of Kingsford; William Engibous and George Williams of Norway; Joyce Cregor, Natalie Mattson and Laird Schmidt of Bessemer; Ray Ahonen, Mrs. Betty Best, Joseph James, Bernard Hokkanen, George Lescoe, William Puro, Raymond Talaska and Thomas Vizanko of Ironwood; Clark Niemi of Wakefield; John Trezise of Calumet; Charles Stetter of Laurium; Stella Brey of Caspian; Donald Aeschliman of Crystal Falls; George Clucas of Gaastra; Robert Alley, James Esbrook, Jay Gaiser, Joyce Gendzwill, Alois Pakula and John White of Iron River; Barbara Matech of Mohawk; David McKinney of McMillan; Mary Fretz of Newberry; James Newman of Mackinac Island; Gordon Mudge, John Nelson, Edwin Olds and Clifford Rajala of Ishpeming; Donald Autore, Helen Dickerman, Walter Koepp, Albert Nadeau, Dorothy Stenglein, and Wilma Woodbridge of Marquette, and Linnea Jylha of Negaunee were among other Upper Michigan students receiving degrees.

Dr. Alexander Ruthven, president of the university conferred 3,445 degrees. Justice Bruce Ditmas Bromley of New York addressed the students on "The Conservative's Role in America."

The 1949 class was the largest in the history of the university, by 187 students. A total of 6,190 graduated from the university this year, including those completing studies in the summer session of 1948 and in February. The school of literature, science and the arts had the greatest number of graduates, and was followed in number by the school of graduate studies and the college of engineering.

Systematic Search Set Up For Shotgun In Reuther Assault

Detroit, June 11 (AP)—Police set up plans today for a systematic search in 26 cities for the owner of the gun used in Victor Reuther's shooting.

Within a few days, according to the program, a detective will go to each city.

He'll take along a picture of the weapon, a shotgun abandoned in bushes at Reuther's home, and its description. Also, he'll have the information on $217,500 in rewards.

Chief Inspector James J. Maher said the gun may have been one of a batch of 20 made by an eastern manufacturer. Only these 20 bore the initials "J. H." The "J. H." was on the Reuther gun.

Reuther, educational director of the CIO United Auto Workers, was shot at his home the night of May 24. He lost his right eye. His brother, Walter, UAW president, was shot under similar circumstances April 20 of last year. He almost lost his right arm.

Dickering Resumed In Bendix Walkout

South Bend, Ind., June 11 (AP)—Joint conferences with federal mediators were resumed today in the 52-day-old Bendix Aviation Corp. strike.

Since the strike began April 20, the union has stood firm in its demands—reinstatement of 47 workers discharged for alleged slowdown, end of an alleged speedup and dismissal of a $1,180,000 damage suit filed against the UAW by Bendix as a result of the strike.

Bendix has been as firm in its rejection of the demands.

Tom Saffell Has Home-Runitis In Association Play

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Saffell hit two more home runs last night to lead the Indianapolis Indians to a 10 to 7 victory over Minneapolis. Nine homers were hit in the game, the losers getting five.

Saffell slammed three home runs in Thursday's game, besides a double and a single.

League leading St. Paul stayed five percentage points in front of Indianapolis by defeating Toledo, 6 to 2. Dan O'Connell led the Saints to a five-run sixth inning with a home run with two aboard.

The Milwaukee Brewers snapped a five game losing streak in routing Columbus 9 to 2. Kansas City downed Louisville, 11 to 6.

Senators Shopping For An Infielder

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators is maneuvering behind the scenes to get a badly needed infielder.

The Senators are looking for a replacement for injured third baseman Eddie Yost. Yesterday, Manager Joe Kuhel spent a busy day on the telephone conferring with Griffith from Detroit, where the Senators open a three-game series against the Tigers this afternoon.

Yost sprained his right leg in Wednesday night's game in Cleveland. He may not be fit for duty for three weeks.

For bait, Griffith has reportedly placed on the block reserve outfielder Johnny Simmons, who hit .296 with Montreal in the International league last year, and veteran Gil Coan, now benched for a batting slump.

A number of teams, especially Detroit, have shown interest in Coan because of his tremendous speed. Manager Red Rolfe of the Tigers has said many times he would like to have the 25-year-old North Carolinian.

It has been reported that Rolfe might be willing to swap infielder Don Kolloway, whom he acquired from Chicago this year.

Lombardo to Make Assault On World Speedboat Record

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 11. (AP)—Band leader Guy Lombardo sets out today to crack the world speedboat record.

He planned to drive Henry J. Kaiser's "Aluminum First" over a mile course on Lake placid in an assault on the mark of 141.74 miles an hour set 10 years ago by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell in his Blue Bird II.

Also during trial today and tomorrow, Lombardo is out to shatter the 17-year-old American record of 124.915 set by Gar Wood with his Miss America X.

The 32-foot "Aluminum First" was made to do 200 miles an hour. It is a 9,000-pound, Ventnor built job covered by sheet aluminum to reduce wind resistance. It is powered by a 24-cylinder, 3,000 horsepower Allison aircraft engine.

The boat is entered in the gold cup races at Detroit July 2 and the Harmsworth trophy races, also at Detroit, on July 30.

RELIEF LOAD DROPS

Lansing, June 11, (AP)—For the second consecutive months, Michigan's relief load has dropped. State Welfare Director W. J. Maxey reported today that the relief case load fell 1,972 cases to 35,686 last month.

Four Powers Revive Discussions Tonight On German Trade

Berlin, June 11 (AP)— (AP)—The Russian military government has agreed to renew four-power talks on German trade and transport problems here tonight, American officials announced.

Western economic chiefs regard this as a step forward in the effort to come up with something by the Monday deadline set by the four power council of foreign ministers in Paris for reaching an understanding on Berlin.

American representative Lawrence Wilkinson, in whose office the meeting is set, earlier this week notified the Russians that the western powers will not make a trade deal between eastern and western Germany unless the Berlin railway strike is settled first.

Fourteen thousand west Berlin employes of the Soviet-controlled railway system have been on strike since May 21 demanding full payment of wages in west marks, recognition of their anti-Communist union, and job security.

Experts On Writing To Testify Next In Hiss Perjury Case

New York, June 11. (AP)—U. S. prosecutors expect to call handwriting and typewriting experts to the stand next week in the perjury trial of former state department official Alger Hiss.

The government has indicated it will seek to establish that some copies of secret documents, taken from government files, carry Hiss' handwriting and that others were typed on a typewriter owned by Hiss' wife.

Whittaker Chambers, self-described ex-courier for a prewar Soviet spy ring; has testified that Hiss copied some confidential documents in his own handwriting, and turned them over to him.

Other documents were copied by Hiss' wife on a typewriter, Chambers has said, and given to him when he called at intervals at the Hiss home.

Copies of the documents—from among the famed "pumpkin papers"—already have been introduced by the government as evidence.

South Korea Rounds Up 400 Graduates Of Sabotage School

Seoul, June 11 (AP)—Four hundred graduates of a sabotage school in Communist North Korea slipped into mountainous South Korea east of Seoul this month and ran into serious trouble.

That was the report today from U. S. advisers working with the army of the Republic of South Korea.

They told a reporter about 60 of the 400 were killed, 15 were captured, and an undetermined number fled back across the 38th parallel that divides North and South Korea. Korean army units are tracking scattered bands of the remainder.

The advisers said documents seized indicated a sabotage school was formed at Pyongyang, capital of the northern regime.

Five battalions of 80 men each were sent across the dividing line with, orders to recruit South Koreans for guerrilla activities. They were to establish a stronghold in the Odae mountain area, 80 miles east of Seoul.

Western Michigan Makes Strong Bid For NCAA Honors

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 11 — The Western Michigan College Broncos were pointing today for the NCAA Midwest Baseball championship to climax a successful season.

The Broncos, who earlier annexed the mid-America conference crown, downed Indiana University, 8 -3, yesterday in the semifinals of the NCAA regional competition.

On Monday they will face either Notre Dame or Purdue in a title test at Lafayette, Ind. Those two teams were rained out at Lafayette yesterday, so their semi-final game was scheduled today.

PETRILLO REELECTED

San Francisco, June 11 (AP)—James E. Petrillo—to the surprise of no one—was re-elected president of the AFL American Federation of Musicians yesterday.

Forest Fire Sweeps 130-Acres at Cooks

About 130 acres of jack pine and aspen two miles east of Cooks in Schoolcraft county were burned over in a forest fire that is now under control, according to the U. S. Forest Service.

The spot fire broke out again last night and required additional men and equipment from the ranger station at Rapid River to bring it under control again this morning. The fire was not in a planted area.

Because of the high fire hazard the warning for persons in the woods to avoid using fire over the weekend was repeated by Forest Service officials.

President Delivers Plain Talk Speech To Rescue Program

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Little Rock, Ark., June 11 (AP)—President Truman, disturbed by congressional economy bloc efforts to slash funds for European aid, decided to resort to what his associates said would be "plain talk" today to save his program.

Meanwhile, he and the boys of the 35th Division whooped it up in another reunion.

His address, which he said would be a "very important" foreign policy speech, was scheduled for delivery at 3:30 p. m. (EST.)

Gov. Sid McMath, his official host, said the president told him the address would be of major importance in the international field, and that it would be broadcast by all the major radio networks and beamed overseas.

And the president gave the speech another build-up at a ball in his honor last night.

Addressing the dancers, he sad he could not join them on the floor because his dancing education had been neglected.

"I'm a Baptist but not a 'light-foot' one," he said.

Then he went on to say:

"If you want to hear the president of the United States, come out to the stadium tomorrow.

"I'll tell you something that will be good for your souls.'

The Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey league have organized a "pee wee" league of youngsters from 11 to 14 from the Smoky City.

National Guardsmen Will Leave Tomorrow For Grayling Project

Approximately 80 National Guardsmen from Escanaba, Marquette and Calumet will leave here at 8 tomorrow morning for Camp Grayling where they will be employed on a major construction project at the National Guard encampment for most of the summer.

They will be in command of Lt. Glenn Meintz, platoon commander of the Delta county unit, Company C, 107th Engineer Combat battalion.

Forty of the men are members of the Delta unit. The remainder are members of Company B, Marquette, and Company A, Calumet.

Fourteen vehicles will form the truck convoy to Grayling from the Escanaba armory, 400 North 23rd street.

Sour Note Sounded As Truman Choice Slaps Iowa Solon

Washington, June 11 (AP)—A blast by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) at one of President's appointments sounded a sour note today in the Democratic tune-up for a forthcoming Des Moines farm meeting.

Gillette, who had been counted on to help preach the administration's doctrine in his state in next year's election, said yesterday that the president's choice of Carroll Switzer for federal judge in Iowa "came as a great and unpleasant surprise to me.'

The Iowa senator said he had expected, as a part of "long established senatorial courtesy," that the court post would be filled by one of two men he named. He had suggested William F. Riley of Des Moines and Ed Halbach of Clinton.

Instead the president named Switzer, Democratic candidate for governor who was defeated last fall when Gillette won his Senate seat.

Jake More, Iowa state Democratic chairman, was generally credited here with having put the Switzer appointment across.

Statements Studied In Babich Slaying Case at Milwaukee

Milwaukee, June 11. (AP)—Milton Babich resumed the stand today in his fight to keep his statements to police out of his first degree murder trial.

The 10 men and two women jurors still were absent. They were excused yesterday while three Milwaukee detectives described statements made by Babich about the slaying of Patricia Birmingham, 16.

The 19-year-old former honor student is charged with murdering Patricia, Feb. 10. On March 17, he eloped to Kalamazoo, Mich., with her sister, Kathleen, Now 18. Three days later Pat's body, wired to a concrete building block was fished from the Milwaukee river.

Detective Capt. Adolph Kraemer and Detectives Lawrence Papke and Frank Zajdel testified Babich made several statements about the slaying.

In each, they said, he claimed he produced a gun to frighten Patricia so so she wouldn't reveal that Kathleen was pregnant. Pat picked up the gun, Babich grabbed for it and it went off, the detectives said Babich told them.

Long Ball Hitters To Wage Home Run Contest at All-Star

New York, July 11. (AP)—Eight of the major leagues' best long ball hitters will appear in a home run hitting contest at Yankee stadium, July 11, the night before the all-star game.

Representing the National league will be Stan Musial, Ralph Kiner, Johnny Mize and Sid Gordon. For the American it will be Ted Williams, Vern Stephens, Eddie Joost and Tommy Henrich.

The announcement is made by Fred B. Hoffman, county Farmers Home Administration supervisor.

1,000 See Softball Show At Memorial

Nearly 1,000 turned out to see the Milwaukee Jets defeat the Escanaba K-Cs, 9-5, in a softball feature at Memorial Field last night. The game was delayed an hour because the Jets came here on Central Standard Time and was not completed until 12:20 a. m.

The Liberty Loans and White Birch played 19 innings to fill the bill, and Phil Brazeau did a masterful job at the public address microphone to pacify the throng. The girls' shadow ball routine, despite the lateness of the hour, was well received.

Stowaway Returns Without Seeing His Wife In Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, June 11 (AP) Daniel Little, ex-GI from Portland, Ore., who stowed away on an Army transport to see his German wife and child, must go back home, possibly without seeing his family.

The 30-year-old Little arrived in Bremerhaven Thursday on the Army transport General Maurice Rose. His wife, Margaret Kreuger Little, 30, lives at Darmstadt.

When the ship docked, Little who had given himself up at sea when he got hungry, was turned over to U. S. military authorities.

He was charged with entering Germany illegally and lodged in a Bremerhaven jail. The court ruled he must be return to the U. S. aboard the same transport when it sails from Bremerhaven tomorrow.

Little said he had tried to get his wife and son to the United States but had had no luck because U. S. authorities would not recognize his marriage.

Little, veteran of the Sicily and southern France invasions, had been married secretly under German law after his commanding officer refused him permission to wed.

Munising—The degree of doctor of dental surgery will be conferred on Edward D. Ebbeson, of Munising, at graduation exercises to be held Monday at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. He is the son of Aaron Ebbeson, 211 Varnum street.

A graduate of Mather high school, Ebbeson's university study was interrupted during the war by military service.

Recreation Will Be Discussed

Munising—A public meeting at which plans for the development of the city playgrounds will be gone over will be held at 7:30 Monday night in the Legion club by the Munising Recreation association. Any interested persons are invited to attend.

The two main matters of business will be the consideration of incorporating papers and the proposal to finance the estimated-$25,000 project through the sale of bonds.

The city commission has agreed to lease the playgrounds to the association for a 10-year period. The association hopes to install a lighting system, public address system, bleacher seats for a thousand persons, lineup parts of the grounds for baseball, football, softball and track and install lavatories.

The plan is to issue bonds, in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 to finance the project. Interest at 4½ per cent would be paid on them.

Michigan Dominates Barber Shop Show

Five Quartets Sing For World Title Tonight

Buffalo, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—It will be Midwest show, with Michigan in the forefront, tonight when the SPEBSQSA picks what it likes to call the world's greatest amateur male quartet for 1949.

This much is sure—the winner will be the cream of the year's crop from the 28,000 members of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (that's what SPEBSQSA stands for).

Five quartets—three of them from Michigan — emerged last night as medalists from a field of 15 in the final eliminations. They were the Clef Dwellers of Oakland county, the Antlers of Flint, and the Songmasters of Lansing, all from Michigan, and the midstates four from Chicago and the varsity four from Lafayette, Ind.

The 15 semi-finalists were the survivors of 40 quartets which came to Buffalo as the best in regional contests. They were screened earlier yesterday.

Thus far, there have been no official ratings. The 12-member panel of judges will announce the final ratings of the five medalists tonight. The judges consider harmony accuracy and blend, arrangement, voice expression and stage presence in determining the winner.

Among the quartets in last night's final eliminations were the Cardinals, Madison, Wis., the Hi-Los, Milwaukee, Wis.; and the Gardenaires, Detroit, Mich.

Catholics on Retreat ....

Every living Catholic is a member of the Church Militant—a soldier of Christ, who is trained to battle continuously against the world, the flesh, and the devil. And just as an army of soldiers finds it profitable to withdraw now and then for rest, medical care, and further training, so an army of Catholic men withdraw from the world annually, to come forth with better spiritual equipment for the battles of their lives.

Priests, nuns, seminarians and collegians have their annual "withdrawals from the world" — their annual Retreats. So do many lay women. But it is of the Closed Retreat for Catholic laymen that we speak here, for the movement is growing by leaps and bounds.

A Laymen's Closed Retreat is the gathering together of men of like mind in a spot closed off from the world and its distractions, for a period of two or three days and nights, for the purpose of fortifying their faiht and gaining those graces which make a man a better Christian, a better citizen, a better father, and a better neighbor.

A Retreat includes Confession, Mass, Holy Communion, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, Stations of the Cross, prayers, hymns, and inspirational talks by the Reverend Retreat Master; but the two events that perhaps impress the Retreat most indelibly on the soul are, first, a totally private visit which each retreatant makes to his Savior in the Blessed Sacrament—just the two of them there together in the chapel—and second, the beautiful hours of meditation on wooded paths, o'er rolling hills, or in the privacy of his room. Mediations on one's most intimate problems, a sacred intimacy with one's Maker, a declaration of mutual love—all private, all uninterrupted. Litle wonder that no man can adequately describe a Retreat to another!

In the United States there are nearly 70 different Retreat Houses for men (there are Retreat Houses for women, too) at which more than 30,000 Catholic laymen, and a goodly number of non-Catholics as well, gather together for a three-day Retreat every year. Professional men and day laborers, old men and young men, saints and sinners, gather together yearly in the only true Brotherhood of Men—brothers of each other and of Jesus Christ, under the common Fatherhood of Almighty God.

Is Christianity failing? Is religion a thing merely for women and children? Thirty thousand laymen on Retreat each year! Let them give the answer!

If it's anything Catholic, ask a Catholic!
